

LOWEST IN THREE YEARS

Government May Buy Pork, Stem Sagging Hog Prices

CHICAGO (U) — Uncle Sam soon may have to add some pork meat to his hoarded groceries.

Hog prices are slipping. They are now at the lowest level in more than three years. They are not far above the point at which the Agriculture Department must buy pork to help hold up the farmer's price for live hogs.

GROCERY BOARD

Uncle Sam's hoarded groceries include eggs, milk, potatoes, grains and many other items. But there's no meat in thearder. Many livestock traders think the last thing Uncle Sam wants to do is buy meat, taking it out of the consumer's market.

However, he won't be able to help himself if prices continue to slide.

The top price for hogs here Wednesday was $11 a hundred pounds. That was the lowest since 1946. The old ceiling was $16.25.

The American Meat Institute, composed of meat packers, came up with some figures on retail prices. It said pork chops at retail in the basic Chicago market have dropped an average of 23 per cent from last summer while whole hams have slumped 15 per cent.

LARD MARKET

One important factor in the hog price slump is the extreme weakness of lard, market analysts agreed. When cut down, about 10 per cent of a hog goes into lard. When lard prices weaken, packers pay less for live hogs unless they can make up the lard loss by getting more for meat.

Loose lard was quoted here Wednesday at $8.75 a hundred pounds, lowest since 1941.

A highly complicated formula exists for determining at what price the Agriculture Department must step in and buy pork to support live hog prices. It is impelled to take this action by congressional law.

The support level varies each month. This month it's $15 a national average for prices received on the farm.

Prices at livestock markets always are higher than the national average farm price. Therefore, the department has calculated a figure for seven midwestern markets which it considers equivalent to the average support price on the farm. This figure is a weekly average of all barrows and gilts sold at those markets.

GUIDE PRICE

This weekly average is called a "guide" price. If the actual selling price is below the "guide" price, it is presumed the farmer is getting at the farm is below the support level. And, therefore, the Agriculture Department must buy pork.

The guide price this week is $16.25. Actual average price at Chicago Wednesday was about $18.80 — or only 55 cents above the guide price.

An important point, however, is that the support level on the farm is an average for the entire month. It would therefore be possible for the average price at seven markets to slump below the guide price for several days, or possibly a week or more, without causing the department to buy pork.

DEADLOCKED

Nobel Prize For Literature Is Shelved

STOCKHOLM (U) — The Swedish Academy decided today to shelve this year's Nobel Prize for Literature because it was hopelessly deadlocked over four top candidates, including Winston Churchill and the Italian philosopher Benedetto Croce.

The tug-of-war on the prize decision was reported to have been greater than any time during the half century in which the 18-member academy has been making the award.

The decision was taken at a brief session this afternoon. It was announced that, as no candidate had been able to obtain the absolute majority necessary, the award will be withheld until 1950.

The Nobel prizes, made in various fields of human affairs, are set up under the will of the late Alfred B. Nobel, the inventor of dynamite. The will calls for the presentation of the awards to the person making the greatest contribution in each of the fields.

The 1949 Nobel peace prize winner was announced Oct. 23. He is Lord Boyd Orr, 69, a Scot who is president of the movement for world government and former director-general of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization.

The award for medicine went to Dr. Walter Rudolf Hess, 68, of Zurich, Switzerland, and Dr. Antonio Cantano de Abreu Freire Egas Moniz, 75, of Lisbon, Portugal, for their work with human and animal brains.

ACCEPT OFFER

Bus Strike At Houston Short-Lived

HOUSTON (U) — A proposal for ending Houston's first major transportation tie up in history was accepted at 12:10 p. m. today by 1,100 striking CIO bus drivers and mechanics.

There was hope the buses — only means of public transportation for this city of over 500,000 — would be back in operation by late afternoon.

The drivers and mechanics, who struck at 12:01 a. m., voted to accept a 13-cent hourly wage hike proposal by a vote of 722 to 47. The strike vote taken last Friday was 791 to 76.

Houston Transit Co. officials previously had offered to raise the $1.17 hourly wage average by 10 cents. The union had been demanding a 30-cent boost.

The compromise settlement plan also calls for possible readjustment of the immediate increase at the end of six, nine and 12 months.

Kidnapped Girl Found Unharmed

MULLINS, S. C. (U) — A 7-year-old blonde girl, taken off Wednesday in a car by two strange men, showed up at an old farm home today, tired but unharmed. Deputy Sheriff Burt Rogers said Jerome Alford, 30, and Hugh Smith, 22, both farmers, had been arrested. No charges have yet been preferred.

The men were held in an undetained jail.

"I understand from doctors that those fellows didn't bother her," the officer said.

"They'd been drinking," he said of Alford and Smith.

Rogers said the men had driven about Marion and Dillon Counties the greater part of the night with the child, but had led her out near the home of George Rogers. There she was fed and sheltered until deputies arrived. The home is about 15 miles from the roadside where the girl was lured into the car Wednesday afternoon as she stepped from a school bus.

Mary, one of seven children of a tenant farmer, was brought to a small hospital here, but was sent to a larger hospital at Florence for further examination.

GOP Treasurer Kemper Quits

CHICAGO (U) — James S. Kemper quit today as treasurer of the Republican National Committee because the GOP's reserve funds have dwindled from $832,000 in 1948 to only $90,000.

Truman 'Doing Best' On Demos Pledges

Retail Food Prices Continue Upward Climb

Tomatoes, Eggs
And Coffee Higher;
Pork Declines

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Retail coffee prices continued their long climb upward this week, top grade eggs turned higher after pork dropped several cents a pound in many stores. Most other foods held about unchanged price-wise. On the produce shelves the only item generally a little higher was tomatoes, most of which were reaching the big marketing centers from California and Mexico.

The coffee markups this week amounted in most cases to only 2 or 3 cents a pound compared with last week's 5 to 6 cents. But the end of the price climb was not yet in sight.

Spokesmen for large coffee roasting concerns said their wholesale selling prices were still several cents a pound behind their coffee bean buying market. Wholesale increases of at least 4 or 5 cents a pound are probable by early next week, they said.

The price spiral of recent weeks resulted from production difficulties in the various growing countries.

Several cuts of pork dropped from 4 to 14 cents a pound. Beef was mostly steady to a few cents a pound higher, and veal, lamb and poultry prices wavered uncertainly.

Best grade eggs bounced upward a few cents a dozen in some places after skidding more than 10 cents last week. Trade spokesmen said a slow seasonal price decline was expected to be resumed shortly.

Cauliflower, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, kale, spinach and beets all continued low-priced and good in quality. Big-city markets received their first shipments of Texas eggplant this week.

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week declined to $5.69, 3 cents below last week and 10.5 per cent below the $6.36 of a year ago.

Separate Peace Offer Renewed Urged by Lewis

WASHINGTON (U) — John L. Lewis today asked Gov. Henry Schickler to renew his effort for a separate coal strike settlement in Indiana — a proposal rejected by the state's mine owners Wednesday.

Such a settlement might break the way for ending the nationwide strike of 400,000 United Mine Workers.

Lewis, in a telegram to Schickler, declared the UMW is ready to meet the Indiana operators "on a few hours' notice."

He called the refusal of Indiana operators to hold separate peace talks — announced Wednesday by Harvey Cartwright, secretary of the Indiana Coal Producers Association — a "brutal" rejection of the governor's peace efforts.

The UMW chief made his new move amid revived reports that the government soon may step into the coal strike.

Peace efforts in the companion steel strike meanwhile were apparently at a standstill with company negotiators reported making time and awaiting united steel workers' moves.

One highly-placed official close to the steel-coal strike crisis said: "We can't let Lewis go much beyond this week end."

He indicated that unless there is some progress toward settling the 48-day coal strike the government will invite Lewis and operators to Washington negotiations, probably some time next week.

Failure of such federal talks would put the coal problem up to President Truman. Mr. Truman has held that neither the coal nor steel strikes has reached the national emergency stage.

The Indiana operators Wednesday night turned down a proposal of Gov. Henry Schickler of Indiana for a separate coal pact covering that state. Lewis had accepted the idea, saying he could submit any tentative offer to his union's policy committee at its meeting in Chicago Monday.

This evident decision to stick to industry-wide bargaining was a blow to Lewis' strategy to make a separate deal with Indiana or Illinois mine operators in hopes the rest of the soft coal industry would go along.

The only coal negotiations that have been going on of late between the miners union and southern operators were broken off Wednesday by the operators. UMW talks with northern and western operators ended without result last month.

WASHINGTON (U) — The United States and Britain have eased their ban on the sale of commercial planes and aviation equipment to Yugoslavia. The first shipments — limited quantities of gasoline and lubricants, were cleared by the State Department today.

President Talks From Train To Illinois Crowd

'Reactionaries'
To Feel Fire In
Address Tonight

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN EN-ROUTE TO ST. PAUL (U) — President, making his first rear platform talk since the election, told a crowd at Savanna, Ill., today he is trying his best to carry out Democratic campaign pledges.

A crowd of several hundred turned out in the cold at 7:40 a. m. to greet the President aboard his old campaign train on the anniversary of his greatest political victory.

He carried with him what he jokingly described as a "non-political, bi-partisan" speech for delivery at St. Paul, Minn., at 9:30 tonight.

His aides said it was a renewal of his blasts at "reactionaries" and of his championship of the "Fair Deal" program for which he campaigned in 1948 and which he presented to the 81st Congress last January.

And they emphasized he will send the program back to Congress again in January and back to the voters in next year's congressional elections.

It was a year ago today—the result was long in doubt in the Nov. 2 voting—that Mr. Truman received the news of Thomas E. Dewey's concession of defeat.

It came to him in the parlor of Kansas City's Hotel Muehlebach after he spent election night hiding away at a hotel in Excelsior Springs, Mo.

He was due in Minneapolis early this afternoon for a parade into St. Paul, a reception, a banquet and then his speech in the civic auditorium.

It is all part of "Truman Day" climaxing the celebration of Minnesota's centennial.

"The president's special time this is a 'stag train.' There isn't even a woman reporter aboard."

It differs from the campaign train in that he isn't making any platform speeches at this time.

Baptists Wind Up Business

EL PASO (U) — Texas Baptists today selected Fort Worth as the site of their next general convention to open Nov. 7, 1950.

EL PASO (U) — The Baptist General Convention of Texas ends its 64th annual convention tonight. Delegates already have adopted a $10 million budget; agreed not to accept any federal or state offers of aid for its schools and institutions, and set up a committee to speak for it on any matters of state interest.

The budget was adopted Wednesday night. Two and a half million dollars was earmarked for Texas, a like amount for the Southern Baptist Convention and the remainder was tagged for buildings and endowments for Christian education and youth institutions.

The new committee will be the voice of Texas Baptists on such matters as state finances, labor problems or any other matters on which the convention wants its stand known.

Members of the committee are Dr. T. B. Maston, professor of social ethics at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth; Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, Waco, and A. C. Miller, minister to minorities in Dallas.

The agreement to shun federal or state aid was made in approval of an executive board report.

Typhoon Kills 200

MANILA (U) — The Manila Chronicle today re-ported 200 persons were killed or drowned at Kabankalan, Negros Island, in the Philippines worst typhoon in years on Oct. 31.

The report, the newspaper said, was given to the provincial governor's office by Eusebio Abada, a senatorial candidate who came from Kabankalan today.

WHILE AWAITING AP PEAL

Court Holds 11 Reds May Be Allowed Bail

NEW YORK (U) — The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled today that the 11 top American Communists convicted of conspiracy may be released in bail pending appeal of their case.

The court ruled that seven could be released in $20,000 bail each and four in $30,000 bail apiece.

The government originally asked that their total bail be set at one million dollars.

An opinion handed down by Judges Learned Hand, Thomas W. Swan and Jerome N. Frank said that bail was being set because the government "conceded that the appeal herein raises a 'substantial question.'"

Bail of $30,000 was set for Eugene Dennis, John B. Williamson, Jacob Stachel and Irving Potash. A $20,000 bail was fixed for Robert G. Thompson, Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., Harry Winston, John Gates, Gilbert Green, Carl Winter and Gus Hall.

Previously the government asked $100,000 bail each for Dennis, Potash, Stachel, Williamson, Hall, Green and Thompson. It recommended $75,000 bail each for Davis, Winston, Gates and Winter.

The 11 were convicted of conspiracy to advocate violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

'AWESOME SIGHT'

Wreckage of Airliner Pulled From Potomac

WASHINGTON (U) — The wreckage of the big airliner — shredded in places almost beyond belief — was an awesome sight.

On board the Navy tug Watah, veteran salvage workers shook their heads in amazement as a towering crane lifted the shattered front part of the airplane from the muddy bed of the Potomac River late Wednesday.

There were the crumpled wings, the tattered crew compartment and the torn fore section of the passenger cabin of the Eastern Airlines ship which plummeted into the river Tuesday, killing 55. It was the worst airplane disaster in history.

The plane broke in half when it was struck in the air by a Bolivian fighter craft. The tail section and most of the fuselage of the airliner crashed on the river bank. The fighter rocketed into the Potomac — still to be salvaged when operations were halted Wednesday night.

Officials hoped to find in the battered remnants of the P-38 some clue to the cause of its collision Tuesday with an Eastern Airlines passenger plane. The collision caused the sudden death of 55 persons and left only the Bolivian pilot still alive.

The fighter's pilot, Bolivian Aviation Director Enrique Rios Brindos, rested in an Alexandria, Va., hospital with a fractured spine and two broken ribs. He was still unaware of all that had happened since he entered the National Airport traffic pattern for a landing Tuesday.

Nippy Weather Due Over State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frosty mornings and evenings and fair and mild days are predicted for Texas through Friday.

Over the state Wednesday there was no reported rain. Though temperatures dropped below freezing in the Panhandle and West Texas this morning, daytime temperatures were mild.

Austin and San Antonio had high readings of 81 Wednesday. The highest minimum was 61 at Guadalupe Pass.

Dalhart had an overnight low of 28 and El Paso had 32. Readings in the lower 30's were taken to Ozona, Cleburne, Lubbock and Junction.

Weathermen said East Texas would be colder in the northeast and extreme east portion this afternoon and tonight. Scattered frost was forecast for the northeast portion tonight with lowest temperatures near 32.

Trade Talks Strike Snag

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U) — British-Yugoslav negotiations for a $500 million five-year trade pact apparently have hit a snag. The talks have been in progress nearly nine months. It was disclosed that Sir Charles Peake, British ambassador to Belgrade, will leave for London by plane Friday in an effort to iron out the difficulties barring agreement.

The Weather

Reynolds Gains Hour on Flight

DAMASCUS, Syria (U) — Millionaire Reynolds gained an hour today in his attempt to get around the globe faster than any commercial airline passenger ever has before.

The millionaire pen manufacturer picked up the hour between Istanbul and Damascus. Previously, at Brussels, he had recovered 90 minutes of the seven hours he lost at Shannon Airport, Ireland, waiting for a London fog to lift.

Reynolds arrived here in a Pan American airliner with 28 other passengers. He took off for Karachi, Pakistan, an hour later.

Reynolds, who said he had used the "beautiful" Damascus weather, wished he could stay longer.

NLRB Violation Charged to Etexan

WASHINGTON (U) — An East Texas manufacturer violated the National Labor Act on several counts, an NLRB examiner has reported.

Wallace E. Royer, the examiner, recommended the full National Labor Relations Board order the Cummer-Graham Co. to rehire certain workers who took part in 1946 strikes at the firm's Longview and Mineola plants.

The firm makes sells and distributes round-bottomed baskets for fruit and vegetable packers. It has its main office in Paris and plants in Paris, Beaumont, Longview and Mineola.

Royer said the firm unlawfully discouraged organizing efforts of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO), refused to bargain with the union, discriminated against union members, and threatened them because of their union activity.

FILM PRODUCER TO WED MODEL

ROME (U) — David Montgomery Pelham, youthful movie producer and one of the original theatrical "Dead End Kids", said today he would be wed soon to Miss Samaran Hurley, 23, a former New York model, Pelham's father, who died several years ago, was one of the founders of the Gillette Safety Razor Co.

Mrs. Salmon Wins Friendship Quilt

Mrs. R. L. Salmon won a friendship quilt Tuesday evening when she wore the most ornate costume to a tacky party sponsored by the Good Neighbor Club of Hope Chapel Church.

Good Neighbor Club's proceeds for the year, $200, was presented to the church for kitchen equipment to be used in the new recreation hall. Members of the club made the quilt under the leadership of their president, Mrs. Willis Floyd.

California Reaffirms Student Drinking Ban

BERKELEY, Calif. (U) — A ban on student drinking in fraternities, sororities and hotel rooms was reaffirmed Wednesday by authorities at the University of California. A storm of protest resulted.

The decree came only 15 days before the "big game" with Stanford—always on occasion for considerable merriment.

Picnards predicted wholesale bankruptcy for Berkeley's liquor dealers.

Forches of fraternity houses, turned into informal beer gardens. Disillusioned members sold, drank or otherwise disposed of their stocks of beer—some suds even flowed on the ground.

Many wore black arm bands in mourning for the "good old days" and protested loudly the evils of prohibition.

The storm subsided rapidly. Within a few hours the placards vanished. A scheduled protest meeting was cancelled.

The students explained: Telephone calls from Hurler E. Stone, dean of students.

Topics—News of People

Two grass fires brought units of the Marshall Fire Department out Wednesday afternoon. First was in the vicinity of Frank Davis Hall, on the East Texas Baptist College campus, in the northwest part of the city, at 1:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The second was on the north side of Victory Drive, just east of the "Y" in East Marshall, at 5:40 o'clock in the afternoon. Fire Chief Carl Bechtold said both were controlled without property damage.

Greek Seamen Stage Strike 50 Feet Up

BALTIMORE (U) — The three Greek sailors on a nautical sit-down strike 50 feet up the side of the freighter Aristocrafts U. S. Immigration Service but it looks as though they'll lose their battle to steer clear of their homeland.

A shipping firm spokesman said the vessel will sail to the Orient by way of the Suez Canal instead of via the Panama Canal and the three seamen will be put ashore in Greece. The ship is scheduled to sail Sunday with a cargo of fertilizer.

The trio climbed aloft early Tuesday morning to thwart efforts to deport them. The three seamen, and a fourth who has disappeared, are members of the Greek Maritime Union OENO which was outlawed by the Greek government in 1947 as Communist-led.

The Immigration Service refused them permission to come ashore when the Aristocrafts docked. Immigration officials believe they are not bona fide seamen but are merely waiting an opportunity to jump ship and enter the United States illegally.

Because this situation had arisen several times and because the four seamen had been agitators in protesting recent pay cuts, the ship's owners decided to send them back to Greece aboard another vessel.

That's when the one sailor disappeared and the other three went up the mast, refusing to come down and not letting anyone else up.

A spokesman for their union said they're afraid they'll be put in prison back home, or worse.

Sympathetic crew members are keeping them supplied with food, drink and cigarettes.

Wood Confirmation Test Drilling

Humble Oil & Refining Co. Thursday drilled ahead on its confirmation test in the now-designated Nolan Edward field, Wood County, in the Mineola area.

The test, Humble No. 1 Watts, was last reported making hole below 4,551 feet in chalk.

Nacogdoches County, two Humble wildcats are drilling. The No. 1 Mary R. Sauer, after recovering lost drill pipe, is again drilling below 6,015 feet. Same firm's No. 1 Ruth Frank's is drilling below 2,810.

Humble's oil find at the north-east edge of the Huxley field, Shelby County, No. 1-F Pickering, is slated waiting on potential while completing pump installation. Pay is from 5,317-28 feet in the Glenrose.

Chest's Mail Drive Lagging

Less than a day away from a meeting Friday morning at which plans for the individual canvass will be made, Harrison County's 1949 Community Chest still had only $4,588 reported today.

Oscar B. Jones, drive chairman, has said that 50 per cent of the $22,500 budget should be on hand by next Tuesday morning—the date for the kick-off meeting—if a successful conclusion is to be assured.

Tomorrow morning's session at 10 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce is for all division chairmen, according to Roy Marcom, Community Chest chairman. Final instructions will be issued at that time for the individual solicitations which will get under way following next Wednesday's kick-off meeting.

Today's receipts in the mail campaign totaled $713.50. Contributions reported today included the following: L. L. Palmer, $250; Dr. R. R. Fagan, $75; Dr. C. E. McCallum, $10; Mrs. W. L. Barry, $10; Mrs. Hobart Key, $25; John Brownrigg Agency, $35; George Prendergast, $25; Charles R. Martin, $25; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yake, $15; Marshall Music Club, $7.50.

Mrs. Georgia S. Hart, $1; Singer Sewing Machine, $25; Dr. W. H. Bennett, $10; Mrs. Texie Oxley, $100; R. G. Ford, $25; Marshall Mill and Elevator, $200; W. Dudley Taylor, Jr., $35; Southern Industrial Life Insurance Co., $25; Associated Stationers, $10; T. H. Keown Music and Furniture, $50; Jesse H. Blalock, $10; Claude W. Fry, $5; St. Joseph Altar Society, $5; Lee Nader Dry Goods, $5; Suduth's, $10.

Idabel Team To Invade Pemberton

The Pemberton Panthers will meet the strong Idabel, Okla., Wildcats in an inter-sectional football game in Wiley Stadium Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

The Panthers will be seeking their third straight win on the home field, having received their only two setbacks of the year on the road.

The Idabel Wildcats have a speedy T formation team which specializes in passing. They have won four games out of six this year.

Pemberton will be one of the rebound from a heart-breaking loss to Paris last week. After rolling up 10 first downs to 3 for Paris, the Panthers lost the game after a fumble and pass interference ruling gave Paris the ball on the 1-yard line.

Rancher Dies

SAN ANGELO (U) — Motley M. Scott, 62, widely known Terrell County rancher, died Wednesday of a heart ailment. He was stricken in his hotel room and died on the way to a hospital.

KINGPIN NABBED

Dope Peddler's Concern For Dogs Brings Arrest

NEW YORK (U) — Peter J. Locascio's concern for his two expensive dogs has landed him behind bars, accused as a kingpin of the American traffic in narcotics.

He was called into Queens County Court today on state charges of illegal possession of an estimated million dollars worth of dope.

Federal and police agents raided Locascio's lavish Queens home Wednesday. They lay in wait until they saw him leave the house to walk his two handsome boxer dogs.

"I wouldn't have been home this afternoon if I didn't have to take these dogs out for an airing," he told police.

Rotarians Hear School Choir

Marshall Rotarians heard the high school choir in its first public appearance of the new school year at their regular luncheon meeting Thursday at the Marshall Hotel.

Under the direction of Frank Fuller, Jr., the choir sang a seven-number program concluding with "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

President William H. Everton, who conducted the luncheon meeting, announced following the choir's performance that Dist. Gov. Earl C. Reeves will visit the club next Thursday. A club assembly has been scheduled for 11 o'clock Thursday morning, he added.

James Duncan, football team member and all-district basketball center, was introduced as Junior Rotarian for November. The introduction was by Paul Pepper, Junior Rotarian for October.

Miss Joyce Friend appeared before the club to announce next Tuesday's performance by the Centenary College choir, which will be sponsored in Marshall by Beta Sigma Phi sorority for the third straight year.

She said that net proceeds of the performance, in which two Marshall students, Miss Olga Miller and Herschel McCure, will take part, will go to the Harrison County Crippled and Handicapped Children's Association for its school building fund.

Miss Miller is attending Centenary College on a scholarship awarded by the Marshall Rotary Club.

T. K. Hewlett, program chairman for the day, presented Director Fuller for the choir's concert. Numbers on the program included Alma Mater, Monastery Garden, Deep River, Riding the Charlie, Go Down Moses and Battle Hymn of the Republic.

Blessings observed were those of George Livers and Marvin Pound, V. H. Hackney led singing, and Rabbi I. J. Sarason delivered the invocation.

Visiting Rotarians were George Murray, T. W. Bingham and the Rev. A. C. Bell, all of Carthage; Dr. G. N. Terry of Jefferson, and R. A. Taylor of Shreveport. E. Key, Jr., was a guest of O. H. Clark.

Wholesale Food Index Declines

NEW YORK (U) — The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week declined to $5.69 from $5.72 a week ago, and was 10.5 per cent below the year-ago level of $6.36.

The index represents the total cost of wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Only six foods covered by the index were higher in wholesale price this week. Led by coffee, they included oats, barley, cocoa, eggs and potatoes.

Fourteen items were lower, with the biggest drops in hams, lamb, steers, hogs and lambs. Others down: Flour, wheat, corn, rye, butter, sugar, cottonseed oil and beans.

Fort Worth Livestock
FORT WORTH (U) — Cattle 1-600; calves 1-100; slaughter cattle and calves ruled about steady here today while stockers were fully steady to strong.

West Germans Find Problem Matching Reds

By DORIS FLEESON

BONN, Germany. (By Air Mail) — A proposal that the new West German federal republic should jump swiftly into the world and Communist front by being allowed to send its own diplomats to the countries that will receive them is being urged by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The chancellor anticipates that Russian puppets from East Berlin will shortly be knocking upon the doors of the world's chancelleries with handsomely engraved certificates asserting that they represent "Germany." He would like to get in ahead of them, has been urged to do so by some South American sources.

American officials think this a bit premature. However, they point out that they have made it possible for West Germany to send its trade representatives wherever the welcome mat is laid out.

All hands agree that one of the most difficult problems just ahead is the matching of the waves of propaganda already coming from the Soviet zone. Having installed their stooges in East Berlin without an election, the Communists of course can give them the fullest leeway. "Look at all those freedoms!" they are expected to chorus virtuously as they yank the strings from behind the German screen of Messers Black & Co.

Copper King Is Dead at 88

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y. (U) — Solomon R. Guggenheim, senior member of America's great mining family, died here early today at his Long Island estate, Trilora Court. He was 88.

The multi-millionaire copper king was active in the family business until three weeks ago, when his health suddenly began to fail. His condition worsened early this week and his three daughters were called home.

He was a generous art patron, and had been a collector since his marriage in 1895 to Jessie M. Rothschild, a young art collector.

As head of the family firm, Guggenheim was a director of a number of metals corporations, including Kennecott Copper, Braden Copper, Pacific Tin, and the Nevada Northern Railway Co. He also was one of the major stockholders in the huge Anaconda Copper Mining Co.

Guggenheim was born Feb. 2, 1861, in Philadelphia, the son of a prosperous embroidery manufacturer. He was educated in the United States and Switzerland. His father early became interested in Colorado mining, and this end of the business prospered so that the sons liquidated the embroidery firm and concentrated on metals.

tionally prove necessary for the allied high commission to check the Adenauer government or alter its direction slightly. This will be done publicly with full benefit of press. The job then will be to match the explanations against Russian exploitation of any such occasions.

For Dr. Adenauer with the Germans and for America with the rest of the world this may be the big winter battle. It is assumed that the drama of the shift taught the Russians that concrete hostilities like a blockade don't pay off. They are still the Russians though so Lieut. Gen. Kenneth Cannon is ready to let fly with the airlift at a moment's notice and the Germans are quietly stowing away six months' supply of food and fuel-in case.

Dr. Adenauer refers to the airlift as "The great merit" of Lieut. Gen. Lucius Clay, retired U. S. military governor.

"We must keep Berlin alive, we shall do all we can for her," the chancellor said. "But the plight of our life in that Russian sea must remain a difficult and earnest one. Economically she has absolutely no connection with the satellites of the east. She should of course be with us but one must recognize that the Russians will make difficulties."

BELITTLES REDS
Dr. Adenauer belittles the 15 Communists in his own parliament of 402 and anticipates no trouble with them.

Housing — as usual — is his greatest domestic problem. Another is the surplus of women. His refugee tide from the Sudeten, from the east zone, continues to swell, is currently estimated at eight million. Before the war, Germany was only 70 per cent self supporting; now part of its agricultural lands are communized, while its population has risen.

They cannot emigrate, Dr. Adenauer pointed out, "nobody will take us." In much the same tone Japanese editors had discussed their population pressures and said, "we have nowhere to go." All spoke the truth, U. S. high Commissioner John J. McCloy has said ruefully that there is not much of the "I am my brother's keeper" spirit loose in today's world.

AT ETBC CONCERT

Percy Grainger, Noted Musician, Here Tonight

One of the international concert world's best known figures, Percy Grainger, appears at Scarborough Memorial Chapel at 8 o'clock tonight.

Mr. Grainger, internationally noted pianist and composer who is best known for his many arrangements of folk tunes of the British Isles, appears as the first artist on the 1949-50 East Texas Baptist College artists' series.

A native of Australia, where he received piano instruction from his mother and Melbourne teachers, Grainger proceeded to advanced studies in Frankfurt and Berlin, after making his first public appearance in Melbourne at the age of 10.

Concert tours took him into many European countries, he became personal friends of the English composer, Frederick Delius, and of the Scandinavian, Edward Grieg, being chosen by the latter to play in the premier performance of his famous piano concerto. Grainger later, after Grieg's death, was called upon to play in memorial concerts featuring the noted

The Dallas real estate developer estimated their cost at about $3,500,000.

Sailors Set Gasless Plane Down on Road

HONOLULU (U) — Two sailors ran out of gas in a rented airplane over Maui Island.

Carlton B. Sumner and Roy Jennings, both yeomen first class from the aircraft carrier Valley Forge, set their craft down on a highway.

They walked to an airport nearby, bought a five-gallon can of gasoline, walked back to the plane and filled 'er up. The lads took off as police cleared the highway. "Didn't even get a parking ticket."

Optimist Week Observance Set

Plans for the local observance of Optimist Week, Nov. 6 to 13, moved forward today with an announcement that the local service club will hold a ladies' night dinner at the Marshall Golf and Country Club Wednesday night, Nov. 9.

Philip Thompson, president of the club, said that the regular luncheon meeting next Monday will not be held.

Local Optimists will join more than 50,000 members throughout the United States, Cuba, Porto Rico, Mexico and Canada for the annual Optimist Week observance, the local president declared today.

The activities of all the various Optimist groups, as are those of the Marshall club, are directed at a constantly expanding program of service to the community and to the nation as a "Friend to the Boy." Mr. Thompson pointed out.

Theme of this year's observance, he added, is "Optimism and Responsibility."

"The responsibility of seeing that the boys of Marshall grow into intelligent, morally upright men has always been one that we have tried to carry to the best of our ability," the club president asserted.

Rare Blood Disease Is Fatal to Child

DALLAS (U) — A 2-year-old Louisiana boy, John Top Collins, died Wednesday night of a rare blood disease.

Doctors said he suffered from reticulo-endotheliosis — similar to leukemia, a disease in which the blood's white corpuscles get out of control and destroy the red corpuscles.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Collins of Lafayette, La., brought their son here for treatment.

BOSTON—LAST OF BOSSES

Curley Out to Win Despite Jail Term

BOSTON (U) — James Michael Curley — the last of the old style big city bosses still in power — is running again for mayor of Boston.

Just as vigorous as ever at the age of 75, he looks like the man to beat in a field of five.

Curley has a special reason for trying to win this time — seeking vindication from the voters for a conviction for mail fraud that sent him to a federal penitentiary in 1947.

Once before he did it — winning re-election as an alderman after serving a jail term for taking a postal examination for a friend. Curley never lost his $20,000-a-year job as mayor when he went to the penitentiary for five months in 1947.

The man the Republican Legislature named acting mayor when Curley was away from City hall — City Clerk John B. Hynes — is now one of his rivals in this election.

Curley is still using the same slogan that has made him a stormy figure in Bay state politics for over a half century:

"Curley gets things done."

And his four opponents all are raising the same cry:

"Let's end Curleyism."

Boston has no primary — just a mayoral election Nov. 8. Curley supporters like this for they figure the more in the race the better for "the old man."

Curley has been elected mayor four times — three times with a minority of the total vote cast.

Once again the field is split; and once again the Curley administration is virtually the sole issue.

Hynes posters read: "Restore dignity to Boston; he stood the test in 1947, he will in 1949."

Governor's Councilman Patrick J. Sonny McDonough: "My pledge as mayor — 'clean and honest government for Boston.'"

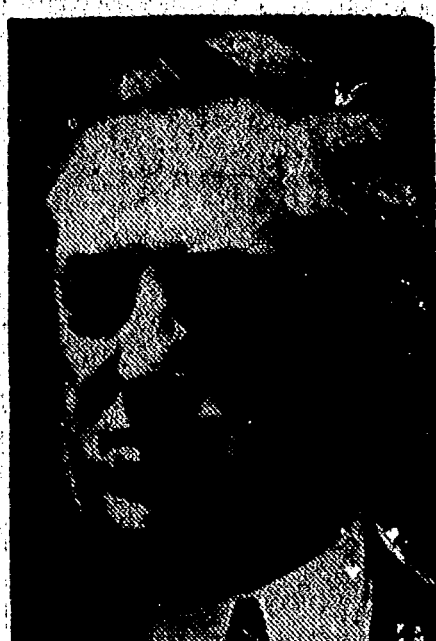

George Oakes, realtor and one-time leader of the movement for a city-manager type of government in Boston: "Let's have a clean, sweep of City hall."

The other mayoral candidate — Walter A. O'Brien Jr., of Henry Wallace's Progressive party — has been devoting most of his campaign to appealing for Congress to set up a new WPA to create jobs.

Meanwhile, Curley rolls along over the same political road that he's sometimes found pretty rocky in the past — yet ignoring his opponents this time.

But he's giving his campaign one modernistic touch that his younger opponents haven't taken up yet — using television to replace the old street corner rallies where he made his start.

Boston municipal elections are nonpartisan. But this year party affiliation may play an important part.

Folks With Tax Allergies May Vote Against Seven Proposed Amendments

Folks who have allergies to taxes of any kind likely will have an urge to vote against seven of the proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution Nov. 8. These seven provide for the spending of public money, and that of course comes from taxes already levied.

First is that giving legislators monthly salary of $800. If it is adopted that amendment appropriates the money without further action by the people or the legislature.

Repeal of the poll tax, saving the citizen its cost, will be followed by a registration fee, not so much, but a fee nevertheless, and the poll tax is to be repealed only as to voting privilege. It will still have to be paid by property owners who will also have to pay the registration fee if they want to vote.

Five other amendments provide for creation of fire prevention districts in counties; for health units in counties; for hospital districts in counties; for civil service for appointed county officers; and for retirement pensions for such officers.

Three amendments, women jurors, lunacy investigation without a jury if so desired, and allowing district judges to issue orders in any county in their districts, call for no money spending over what they already cost, and may be approved without increasing state or county spending.

It is true that the spending amendments, except the voting registration and legislative salaries, provide for local option. Counties desiring them may have them by vote of the people, whether taxpayers or not. This, their advocates urge, does not mean spending unless the people want to have these things and are willing to pay for them. That is true, but experience has been that often there is argument that such and such a thing is absolutely necessary, and it is voted for. It might be well to remember that.

IT'S MEDAL FOR SIMON THE CAT

British Brass to Present Dickin Medal for Kitty's Duty Under Fire in Yangtse

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON — It's etiquette, when referring to Simon the cat, to call him Simon, D. M.

That's like saying Winston Churchill, O. M., C. H., meaning Order of Merit and Companion of Honor.

In the case of Simon the cat, the initial stand for Dickin Medal, which is the very highest British honor an cat can win, or ever has won, Simon is the first.

ABOARD AMETHYST
Simon, about 2 years old, distinguished himself when the British ship Amethyst was captured on the Yangtze River by Chinese Communist shell fire. Although wounded by shrapnel and stung by fire, the official dispatches said, Simon went right on with his duty of clearing the ship of rats.

Simon's attachment to the ship and his crew was hailed as an example of devotion which did much to bolster the morale of British sailors when the vessel ultimately made its sensational dash to the sea and freedom.

So Simon gets the Dickin Medal, and some time in November when the Amethyst steams into Plymouth the hands will play, there will be a lot of gold braid about, and an admiral will make a formal presentation of the medal.

ANIMALS VICTORIA CROSS
It is about as big as a mouse, and about the same color, and what Simon will think of the fact there will be no knowing. But he does join a distinguished company of 53 birds and beasts who have received what the British call the "animals' Victoria Cross."

It takes its name from a 78-year-old lady, Mrs. M. Elizabeth Dickin, O.B.E. (Order of the British Empire), friend of animals and founder of the People's Dispensary for Sick Animals.

The medal is presented in the name of the Allied Forces Medical Club, a subsidiary of the dispensary association. Members of the club are animals and birds exclusively, but Miss Dorothea St. Hill Bourne serves as human general secretary to keep the records straight.

She is the historian of the 541 great ones who have won the Dickin Medal.

No civilian beasts can get into the club, or hope to win the medal. It's strictly a military outfit. The beast or bird must have been an authentic mascot of a service unit, and must be proposed for membership by a commanding officer.

So it's an exclusive lot, despite the fact that some of the members are mongrels and broken down horses who wouldn't win any beauty prizes.

JOE THE PIGEON
Distinguished among the medal winners is a fabulous American — none other than Joe the Pigeon, whose favorite loft is at Fort Monmouth, N. J. He is credited with saving the lives of some hundreds of troops, and in October 1946 he was brought back to Britain by airplane to get his Dickin Medal.

It was presented at a ceremony at Tower Green, beside the Tower of London, and the show was fit for a lord mayor.

"Well done, 'ol Joe," What Joe did in the Italian town of Colva Vecchia was plenty. On Oct. 18, 1943, a message came from the 56th British Infantry Division that the Germans were holding stubbornly and a request was made for bombers to smash the position.

Then the 169th Infantry Brigade made a sudden rush which captured the town. Communications were in a tangle, and the bombers were about to take off. They would have gone — within five minutes — if Joe hadn't streaked back from Colva Vecchia with the message the place had been taken, and was full of Allied soldiers. Joe covered the 20 miles in 20 minutes, and undoubtedly saved many lives.

British pigeon Tommy got almost as grand a show when his Dickin Medal was presented at the Dutch Club in London, in February 1946 by the Dutch Maj. Gen. Van Oorschot.

At a critical stage of the war Tommy, on a training flight, fell exhausted in Holland. Tommy was found by Dutch resistance leaders and secretly nursed back to health.

Then the Dutch came into possession of vital information on German troop dispositions. There was urgent need to pass it on to London swiftly, and Tommy was sent on the mission. He covered the 400 miles to his loft in a day, and the information he brought had a decisive influence on the campaign in Holland. At least, so the generals said.

PARACHUTING DOGS
Among the Dickin medalists are several parachuting dogs. Rob, a vague mongrel, made 20 parachute descents in North Africa and Italy. Dogs were especially useful to small parties of paratroopers who landed behind enemy lines. Rob and other dogs stood guard while hardpressed men caught snatches of sleep.

Among the bemedaled pigeons is Beachcomber, who brought the first news of the Dieppe landing to army headquarters in Britain.

Reflex, a dog, became extremely skillful at finding wounded persons buried under rubble of wrecked buildings in London.

Riffman Khan, a dog, rescued a corporal from drowning in the assault of Walcheren. Scotch Lass, a pigeon, carried microfilm across the North Sea for the RAF. William of Orange, a pigeon, brought vital messages from the Arnhem airborne operation.

Flying Dutchman, a pigeon got the award posthumously. He perished on his fourth flight from Holland.

DOG POW
Judy, a dog, is listed as the only decorated animal who was a prisoner of war, the Japanese solemnly listed her on the official role of captives.

Anita, an Alsatian dog, saved the life of a Czech pilot by leading rescuers to his wrecked plane. Just recently he aided his master to escape across the Czech border, closed by Communist authorities. Bob are now in England and Anita got his medal from the hand of Field Marshal Lord Wavell.

Upstart, Regal and Olga are London police horses and Dickin medalists. It was said of them that they were quite fearless among falling bombs, and took notable parts in many rescues of wounded persons.

"Some of them may not look like much, but they are the best and bravest bunch of birds and beasts in the world," said Miss St. Hill Bourne.

"Simon the cat, D.M., is a welcome addition to the heroes' company."

New Season Opens, Hunters Beware

Twenty-eight Texas hunters were killed last year and 38 were shot as result of hunting accidents.

Ten deaths resulted from deer-hunting accidents in the first few days of the current hunting season in Colorado.

These things should speak plainly to Marshall and East Texas hunters who are now preparing for the Nov. 4 opening of duck-hunting season and the Nov. 16 opening of deer season.

Caution in hunting is a necessity familiar to all hunters. But it's sometimes forgotten.

Perhaps the casualty figures will help impress it upon sportsman minds.

LAWMAKERS IN ACTION

What Texans Say

"The Alken bill, among other things, authorizes the Brannan Plan to which I am opposed. It seems to me there is sound reason for some flexibility on the party levels for support particularly as applied to perishable commodities. The cost of the potato program, for example, has been prohibitive and a fixed 80 per cent of parity as applied to that commodity has proven unsound and has served to encourage production."

"The reason Dr. Edward G. Nourse resigned from the president's Council of Economic Advisers was that too much politics was involved. The underlying element that made Dr. Nourse increasingly unhappy in his job is that Presidents want their advisers to tell them how to carry out the pledges they have made. Instead, Nourse heaved to the economists' line."—Arthur Krock.

WORLD ATOM CONTROL
WASHINGTON POST: It is tragic that governments must think in terms of an atomic arms race, with all the potential horrors that it entails. But it seems to us that the one hope of warding off the danger of atomic attack in the years ahead is to build an international atomic agency too powerful to be challenged. Then we shall have to trust to time to spread the jurisdiction of that agency to the entire world and to make the abolition of atomic weapons possible.

A DOG'S LIFE: In the Russian Cartoons

That's What Tito Leads

By TOM WHITNEY

MOSCOW — Tito has become the principal target of Soviet political cartoons during the past several weeks.

This applies not only to the Moscow press where many political caricatures directed at the Yugoslav political leader have appeared but with equal force to the provincial press.

He is shown often as a "pug-dog" frequently with paws he-spattered with blood and almost always on a chain being held by a hand labelled Wall Street or Uncle Sam or Britain and the United States.

He is often portrayed as an executioner carrying an axe or gallows. Invariably he is pictured wearing an officer's hat often with the emblem of skull and crossbones on it and always resembling the type of hat which Hitler wore.

Often in these cartoons Tito pictured as a dog is shown barking in the direction of the Soviet Union, the "peoples' democracies" and the "camp of peace, democracy and Socialism."

He also is shown frequently in the company of such figures as Franco, Tsaladaris, Churchill, de Gaulle, Blum, Hitler and Himmler.

Furthermore, the Fascist symbol the swastika is often to be seen in the cartoons usually attached to the figure representing Tito.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Adm. Forrest Sherman Was a Favorite of Forrestal

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Here's the dope on Admiral Forrest Sherman, the man who favored unification:

He was Forrestal's favorite. Forrestal, his chief of operations, considered him the broadest military man he had ever known. In fact, Forrestal sent Sherman to the Mediterranean with the idea of replacing Adm. Richard Conolly as Fleet Commander for Europe. But Conolly begged to stay on, and Forrestal gave in, expecting to make the transfer later.

Sherman and Conolly have never gotten along since. Conolly being an old-line, unimaginative, battle-ship admiral. Sherman is just the opposite — alert, aggressive, with his eyes ahead.

Sherman is short, tanned, ruddy, with straight gray hair. He wears glasses at his desk. He was a champion fencer at Annapolis, but his favorite exercise now is walking. Aboard ship, he paces the deck; on land, he's rather walk a few blocks than catch a cab.

Though he has a dynamic mind, Sherman's personality falls short of Admiral Halsey's. He doesn't play golf or tennis, but reads avidly for recreation. He prefers weighty works, such as the London economist.

Sherman won the complete respect of Gen. Lauris Norstad while writing the unification act.

Note — Sherman was ready to testify with the other admirals on Capitol Hill. He flew into town, and had his statement all ready. But Secretary of Defense Johnson already had him in mind for chief of naval operations, didn't want him to get splattered with mud. So Sherman was kept in the shade, never took the stand.

Atomic-war preparations in Br-tain have been intensified since news of the Russian A-bomb. London would be the first object of attack. Therefore the British army has ordered 500,000 vest-pocket Geiger counters to detect radio-activity. Air-raid wardens will use them to report on what parts of the city are radioactive.

Chief result of the American ambassadorial conference in London was to appoint "Chip" Bohlen, ace expert on Russia, to mastermind U. S. strategy behind the iron curtain.

Tito's chief trouble in defending Yugoslavia is ammunition. Yugoslav's artillery, guns and tanks were supplied by the Soviet, and now Tito can't get spare parts and ammunition.

The Yugoslavs are dickering with the Italians to manufacture ammunition in North Italy. And it was only a short time ago the two countries were rowing over Trieste.

Labor Against NLRB Member

Truman will not reappoint J. Copeland Gray to the National Labor Relations Board when his term expires this year. Labor is down on him . . . Labor leaders now figure that if they can't repeal the Taft-Hartley act, the best tactic is to pressure for pro-labor men on the NLRB . . . Usually John L. Lewis has made the mine operators sweat. Now the operators are letting John sweat. He has been desperately anxious to settle the coal strike . . . Ben Fairless, president of U. S. Steel and the son of a coal miner, two weeks ago urged his company executives to sign a one-year contract with the union along the lines recommended by the president's fact-finding board . . . CIO Boss Phil Murray, who knows better, has let his cohorts get away with an unfair labor pact which boomerangs against labor.

Though Housing Expediter Figue Woods has been castigated by the real estate lobby, the CIO convention in Cleveland also castigated him for being the friend of the real estate lobby. It looks like Woods was really trying to be impartial . . . The CIO convention also castigated Jim Reynolds, conscientious NLRB member, as anti-labor. Reynolds has tangled with some labor bosses but has a long record of fighting for the little guy.

Cy Ching Is Patient Man

Unsung hero of the steel negotiations was long, lanky Cy Ching, at the age of 71, resigned from the U. S. Rubber Company two years ago to help his country as a labor conciliator.

Ching's patience is that of Job's. All week long, hour after hour, day after day, like a broken phonograph record, he listened to the same company arguments that workers must contribute to the pension fund.

"But your captive coal mines have a noncontributory agreement with John L. Lewis," Ching told U. S. Steel Vice President, John Stephens.

"Yes, and look what happened to Lewis's pension fund," Stephens replied. "It's been bankrupted because it never was set up on a sound, actuarial basis in the first place. We want to establish a sound pension plan for U. S. Steel employees."

Ching argued that Phil Murray had proved his responsibility by his relentless fight against com-management had rejected. As a result, CIO left-wingers were yelling for his scalp.

Didn't it mean something to the company to be able to do business with a high-class, levelheaded, responsible American like Phil Murray? asked Ching.

"Well, this question of contributory pensions is a matter of principle with us," interposed Roger Blough, counsel for U. S. Steel. The presidential fact-finders would have come up with a different solution if they had to run a steel mill, he intimated.

Maybe the fact-finders also took into consideration the problems of those who work in a steel mill, slyly suggested Ching.

"But contributory pensions are now an accepted fact — a part of our economy," argued Stephens. "Social-security pensions are contributory. The railroad retirement act is based on the same principle. Private industry cannot be criticized for going along with the pattern established by congress."

So it went — sometimes into the night.

Jefferson Is Subject Of Ford Magazine Article

Jefferson — "unhurried, unsullied, proud" — is the subject of an article by Barry Benefield in the November issue of The Ford Motor Co.

Its author is a well-known Jefferson writer who now lives in New York.

Five paintings by Ed Bearden illustrate the yarn, including views of the Choctaw Trading Co., the Excelsior Hotel, a near-by plantation house, the old postoffice and the old Crawford home.

The author, discussing Jefferson's famous decision not to do business with Railroaders Jay Gould, calls the choice "uncommon, lovably crazy, and gallantly loyal to the steamboat."

DEMANDED LITTLE
"Besides," he declares, "stern-wheelers demanded no right-of-way, trestles, embankments, and steel eyesores."

Of a pattern was the decision to build a courthouse which "would be a temple in size and seemliness," one well out, "so that the bigger city that would grow to it should stand around it as a proper municipal center."

But the railroads came, and the steamboats steamed away into the past, and "the metropolis of Jefferson expanded nowhere except in mellowness and piece of mind and dignity," Mr. Benefield adds.

The author recalls one version of the naming of the Jefferson Jimplecule, which first appeared in 1865. Its editor, Ward Taylor, so the story goes, wanted a name a little more out of the customary than many then in use.

"Picking up a handful of pled type, the editor-propietor blindly arranged in his composing stick enough of it, he thought, to make a resounding word. Opening his eyes, he saw the word Jimplecule," the author notes.

And so it appears to this day. One further story of the early days illustrates Mr. Benefield's description of Jefferson's uncommon history. A reluctant little stranger, after studying the roundabout country carefully, revealed himself as an ironmaster, and his purpose as that of making Jefferson the iron-and-steel metropolis of the Southwest.

"He almost did, too," the author comments. "Brother was a narrow escape, come to think of it."

PIG IRON PRODUCED

He recalls that high-grade pig iron actually was produced from the stranger's blast furnace, but a reversal in tariff policy led it to an untimely end.

"So once again, Jefferson cleaned up the debris after a misadventure, winning even while it lost. For she continues unhurried, contained, dignified, Jefferson is a vintage town."

Missing Child Is Found Safe

LANHAM, Md. (U) — It was dark and cold down under the railway fill where 7-year-old Claire Marie Hanratty sat under a bush calling to her "mommy."

Three of the some 1,000 men who joined in a search after the blonde tot failed to return from school Wednesday, scrambled down the 50-foot embankment and found her there at 1 a. m. today.

"I got lost," she told her rescuers, "but I wasn't worried."

Members of 16 fire companies, more than 100 soldiers, 25 Prince Georges County policemen and hundreds of neighbors joined in the 10-hour search.

The child was found about two miles from her home at Seabrook, Md., just outside Washington, D. C.

Next Monday To Be MSVD

The city's most popular post-war trade promotion moves into its second year Monday.

Participating merchants announced plans today for the regular monthly Super Value Day event next Monday, 12 in the series which began the first Monday in November, 1945.

Trade extension committee of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the shopping feature, said they hope the MSVD event will continue to grow in popularity as rapidly during the second year as it did during the first.

Firmly established as a special occasion in the minds of trade territory shoppers, MSVD in past months has brought crowds to the city which rival those of most Saturdays.

Spokesmen said that next Monday's special values will be among the most attractive ever offered in the history of MSVD.

Many of the items have been especially purchased for the event, which it is expected will feel the influence of the approaching Christmas season.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS—10

Jury Service As a Right and As Requirement of Women Proposed

(NOTE — Last of ten articles.)

By SAM STRINGFELLOW

Should women — ve on juries? That's the last question put to Texas voters by way of proposed constitutional amendment on the November 8 ballot.

Contrary to popular belief and some discussion heard relative to this amendment, the Texas Constitution at this time does not prohibit jury service for women.

The present provision, dating back to 1875 and since unchanged, leaves the matter of qualifications of jurors up to the legislature, and acts of that body have preserved the tradition of masculine juries.

If this amendment is adopted, jury service will become a specific right, and a specific citizenship requirement, of women.

The Legislature would still be authorized to enact such laws as are needed to establish qualifications of jurors otherwise than with reference to sex, and, as it has already done in the case of men, would have power to provide by law for statutory grounds on which individual women, for proper reasons, could be exempt from jury service on specific occasions.

Thirty-seven of the 48 American states already require jury service of women. Texas would, with approval of this amendment, become the thirty-eighth.

DOES EVERYTHING ELSE

Proponents of the amendment point out that in Texas a woman can now hold any public office, elective or appointive, that she can preside over the courts and rule on points of law, and that she might as well be allowed to serve as a juror to boot.

These pooh — pooh the opposition theory that woman's place is in the home and that the so-called "weaker sex" should be protected from the sordidness of criminal trials, especially, arguing this reasoning is no longer valid for modern womanhood which holds its own alongside men in all other citizenship functions, and in business, the professions and even politics.

Some practical opposition springs from the fact that Texas courthouses now do not have the separate facilities which would be required for mixed juries, and that the provision of these facilities would be of considerable cost to the taxpayers. Proponents contend, however, that if the majority of people believe women should serve on juries and so vote next Tuesday that they will not object to taxes to provide the necessary facilities.

BUILDINGS INADEQUATE?

Others argue that present law requires that juries in felony trials, such as "murder," cannot be separated.

rated during the course of the trial and until the verdict is reached, but proponents answer that the amendment gives the legislature ample authority to revise that provision of statutory law satisfactorily.

Some argument arises over an opposition claim that women are more emotional than men and would be too unstable in their judgment as a result. Proponents point to the records of 37 states which have already provided for women jury service, citing generally increased criminal conviction rates, and charge that much of the opposition springs from a fear of this development elsewhere.

Mrs. Burnett Is Program Leader

Mrs. E. L. Burnett discussed the winning of the independence, an important part of our American heritage, Wednesday afternoon when the Women's Club met at her home at 608 Pine Crest Drive.

"Let us discover how to preserve the independence our great forefathers won so nobly and the human values for which democracy stands," Mrs. Burnett said. "Let us work unitedly on the plan we adopt by democratic choice. As we set ourselves to this task, we must remember the human will and intelligence are still capable of the noblest aspirations and finest achievements which we or any member of the human race has given to the world of thought and action."

Red roses flanked by white tapers in silver holders centered the serving table, which was laid with a handmade cloth. Mrs. J. L. Croft served salad, and Mrs. R. M. Williams served coffee. Red roses decorated the home.

Mrs. Katherine A. Tate, president, conducted the business meeting. Members present were Mrs. Cary M. Abney, Mrs. Milton Andrews, Mrs. P. O. Beard, Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. Croft, Mrs. C. M. Herman, Mrs. H. Girl Scouts Celebrate Juliette Low's Birthday

Harrison County's 175 Girl Scouts all over America this week to celebrate the birthday of Juliette Low, who brought Girl Scouting to America in 1912. Juliette Low's birthday is being celebrated in Waskom and Marshall by Girl Scouts who will hold their regular troop meetings to work on merit badges in the fields of agriculture, arts and crafts, community life, health and safety, homemaking, international friendship, literature and dramatics, music and dancing, nature, outdoors, and sports and games.

National Girl Scout Week opened in Marshall with each girl's attending the church of her choice Sunday. Girl Scout meetings this week are beginning as all meetings begin, with the salute to the United States flag and the pledge of allegiance. Next girls repeat the Girl Scout promise: "On my honor I will try to do my duty to God and my country, to help other people at all times, and to obey the Girl Scout laws."

Girl Scout laws are: A Girl Scout is loyal; a Girl Scout is a Girl Scout; a Girl Scout is to be useful and to help others; a Girl Scout is a friend to all and a sister to every other Girl Scout; a Girl Scout is courteous; a Girl Scout obeys orders; a Girl Scout is cheerful; and a Girl Scout is thrifty; and a Girl Scout is clean in thought, word, and deed.

A Savannah, Ga., girl, Juliette Low became familiar with the work of Sir Baden Powell and Lady Powell, founders of Boy Scouts and Girl Guides in England. Soon after visiting the Powells in England, she returned to Savannah to organize the first Girl Scout troop in the United States, a group of 12 girls.

Today there are more than a million Girl Scouts in the United States. And Girl Scouting is active in almost every country of the world. Miss Mary Ellen Rawley, director of the East Texas Area, spent her summer vacation directing a Girl Scout camp in Aruba, Dutch West Indies.

Under each of Girl Scouting's eleven classifications today, there is a wide choice of activities which a girl may choose to earn proficiency badges. In the field of agriculture, for example, she may tend a small plot of vegetables, tend a flower bed, or care for house plants. Homemaking may mean dishwashing, cooking, child care, or any number of other household tasks.

Work is submitted to critical supervision by Girl Scout leaders, and proficiency badges, awarded only for good work, are highly prized by Girl Scouts.

Miss Mary Kyles is president of the Harrison County Council, and Mrs. W. A. Nunley is vice-president. Mrs. K. V. Woodruff is secretary, and Miss Dilly Latimer is treasurer. Camp chairman is J. D. Bostick. Mrs. J. D. Bostick is organization chairman. Public relations chairman is Miss Mary Dorothy Womack. Mrs. Ruth Lollar is program chairman, and Miss Esther Mack is registrar.

By ALICE ROSE CARTER

Newspapermen who came to interview Mrs. Stanley Baskin when she arrived for the first time in Juneau, Alaska, were disappointed that she had no spurs or big hat. Now that she is back in Texas after two years in Alaska, she wonders whether or not leaving her daughter's snow suit behind was a good idea. People expect three-year-old Virginia Sue to be wearing it.

Mrs. Baskin visited her sisters, Mrs. Mack Russell, 1200 N. Grove, and Mrs. Donald New, 507 Circle Drive, and will leave Texas Nov. 7 for the return trip to Juneau.

She is a native of Huntsville and during the summer of 1944 was visiting instructor in education at East Texas Baptist College. Her husband, who worked with the FBI in Alaska during the war years, is now assistant United States attorney there.

Texas friends who discuss the high prices of foods here feel lucky when Mrs. Baskin tells them of Juneau's food prices. Same types of food she was accustomed to in Texas are available in Juneau, but all food must be shipped by air or boat. Prices are much higher, about six or seven cents per article difference, and fruit is especially costly.

Juneau, capital of Alaska, was at one time a large mining town, home of the Alaska Juneau Mine. Today six or seven thousand people live in Juneau, many of them of Swedish ancestry. Indians fish in the summer and carve intricate pieces of jewelry. Mrs. Baskin wears a necklace carved from ivory.

"People in Alaska aren't very different from Texans," Mrs. Baskin explains. "Like Texans, they are very friendly. About the only difference there is the climate."

LONG SNOW
And the climate as Mrs. Baskin describes it is quite different. Last winter a 12 to 18 inch snow lasted from Thanksgiving until spring, and zero weather lasted several weeks at a time. Still, Juneau has the mildest climate in Alaska.

Alaska's six months in the evening with the same sunlight Texans have in the afternoon during the spring and summer months. During the summer, suits and light-weight wraps are worn. The temperature never goes above 70. "There is a good bit of rain," Mrs. Baskin says, "but the temperature is no nice we don't fuss about that."

She explains that in the fall days begin to get shorter suddenly and that in spring days are noticeably longer.

LIKES TEXAS WEATHER
Virginia Sue has only one thing to say about Texas weather. She has awakened every day since she has been here to say "It's a nice, sunny day. I ought to be outside."

Mrs. Baskin says that her daughter had seen only Alaska's rainy summer days until she arrived here.

Cumberland Society Collects Clothing For Relief Work

Members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church's missionary society are to bring clothing to the church Nov. 10 for the church's world relief work.

The society voted to give $25 to the church's achievement fund and $20 to CARE Tuesday afternoon at a meeting in the church parlor. Sixteen members were present and answered roll call with scripture verses.

"Needs of Other People" was the program topic. Mrs. F. S. Riggs conducted the program and was joined by Mrs. Paul Ehrig, Mrs. R. C. Jones, Mrs. Joe Nesbitt, Mrs. Claude Dorough, and Mrs. Floyd Donald. Mrs. Ella Foster and Mrs. Alma Suddarth, hostesses, served refreshments.

Mrs. L. R. Rice Has High Bridge Score

Mrs. L. R. Rice had high score in bridge Tuesday when Ladies Association met at Marshall Golf and Country Club. Mrs. Ray Sheppard, Mrs. Paul Bath, Mrs. Wiley Sanders, and Mrs. Bush Hayes won high-cut prizes, and Mrs. Jack Applebaum won the low score prize. Door prize went to Mrs. C. A. Brian.

Members of the food committee who served luncheon were Mrs. Sheppard, Mrs. Flower Williams, Mrs. Tom Post, and Mrs. Cecil Keys. T. H. Post and Dr. Ray Sheppard were guests.

Members attending were Miss Amelia Goldberg, Miss Peggy Nehls, and Misses Nathan Goldberg, Calvin Pate, R. M. Nichols, J. B. Beckett, Bill Rudd, Barry Rudd, L. M. Redding, Bath, John Marshall, Jake Goldberg, Weldon Hancock, Hayes, A. L. Muller, Brian, Sanders, R. E. Sawyer, L. J. Ryan, E. B. Maxwell, W. L. Prepared Foods Boon to Babies

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERD

It's wonderful that babies are being treated to so much nutrition early in life and wonderful for a mother to have the sense to know when enough is enough and even a generous diet can be outraged. Just because a baby can have vegetables, fruits, cereals, cottage cheese, meat, puddings and eggs, beginning in some cases, as early as the sixth week, is no reason to assume that there are no limits. There is a proper way to begin the solid foods and this way should be adhered to. The baby does have to adjust himself to each new food and if this is supplied in teaspoonful amounts the baby will not be too upset by it, or find it too difficult, to adjust to it.

So one teaspoonful daily is the amount served in the beginning. That one spoonful is continued for one week. When baby is digesting the food nicely, and eating all the formula or taking his nursing as usual, it is time to try two teaspoonfuls. After the third teaspoonful daily is accomplished the amount may be increased more generously. The point to be gotten will be that which the baby takes willingly and after which he can drink just the same amount of formula or enjoy just as lengthy a nursing. If he is less interested in either, it may be assumed that he is getting more solid food than he should have at this particular meal.

Usually, cereal is the first food given; then fruits or vegetables. All of these are more conveniently provided in cans, the cereals well-cooked and easy to serve with just the addition of warm milk, the vegetables and fruits in many varieties and properly sieved for easy digestion.

Meat, finely sieved, is also marketed in cans. Each kind of meat (veal, beef, pork, liver and lamb) needs to be started in teaspoonful amounts and continued for one week. The mother may find that the baby will react to one of the meats and if so this one may be omitted and the ones well taken may be retained in the diet.

One teaspoonful of hard-cooked egg yolk is a proper amount with which to start, and long cooking makes it easier to digest. The child who has an allergy toward egg will react unfavorably even to this.

Babies need simple foods, with mild flavorings so that they will learn to enjoy the taste of the foods themselves. And remember, even if this sounds like a full diet the baby is still not ready to eat candy, at a tender age, or taste spoonfuls of adult foods with a high fat content and strong seasonings, even if he can chew and swallow them. A baby needs "baby" foods; however, wide their variety.

Our leaflet No. 22 "Formulas and Early Feeding," take the baby by up to one year of age and may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Elder in care of The Marshall News Messenger.

Club Begins Lectures
In Homemaking Classes

Mrs. W. H. Hendren and Mrs. G. L. Chastain, representing Marshall Garden Club, presented the first in a series of lectures and demonstrations on flower arrangement and table setting to home economics classes at Marshall High School Wednesday.

The initial lectures Wednesday were presented during National Homemakers Week. Mrs. Chastain explained the elements of flower arrangements and stated that for successful arrangements, the arranger must know how to make a plan, secure material, cut it, clean it, and condition it. She discussed building a flower arrangement according to plan.

Mrs. Hendren exhibited the right and wrong kinds of containers and flower holders and discussed different types of mechanics used in making flower arrangements.

Homemaking Club held its informal initiation of new members Tuesday evening at Maverick Central. Eighty-three girls registered. Chuck wagon snacks were served, and a square dance was held after the initiation.

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barconate DOES take off fat. It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starve diet, no laxatives, no hunger. Barconate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof
Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:
"I am very glad to endorse Barconate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. Not only did I lose weight, but I looked and felt better in every way."

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to lose weight, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barconate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 150 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truly recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

Music Club Has Concert

Approximately 100 persons turned out Wednesday afternoon for the first of six concerts featuring local talent offered this season by the Marshall Music Club.

The program and artists were received with enthusiasm by the audience which had assembled in the Women's Building, W. Austin at N. Franklin St., for the event.

Miss Mary Elba Holman, soprano, East Texas Baptist College voice instructor, offered the first three selections from Schumann's eight piece song cycle, "Woman's Life and Love," as her principal contribution to the program.

Thomas Mitchell Stone, ETBO piano instructor, offered a predominantly modern group of selections, which won a good reception from his audience.

For their encore, Miss Holman sang John Scott's "The Prophet," and Mr. Stone offered Chopin's "Waltz in D Flat."

Mrs. George Eckel, Music Club president, accompanied Miss Holman in her selections.

Following the musical, the club entertained the artists, guests and members with a tea. Mrs. H. F. Selzer and Mrs. Ivan Oliver served as hostesses.

The ETBO choir, under the direction of Dexter Riddle, will be presented by the club on Nov. 30 as the second of the series of six Wednesday afternoon musicals.

Junior Auxiliary
Fetes Sunbeam Band

Members of the Junior Girls Auxiliary of Fairview Baptist Church entertained members of the Sunbeam Band with a party at the home of the auxiliary counselor, Mrs. J. W. Davis, in Cloverdale addition.

Molly Ann Lancaster, president, conducted the Girls Auxiliary business meeting and introduced a new member, Jean Sharp, who led in prayer. Miss Zella Murphy, Sunbeam leader, told a missionary story and led the closing prayer.

Refreshments were served to Molly Ann Lancaster, Elsie Huffman, Jean Sharp, Faye Gibson, Claudette Morton, Jerry Salley, Bill McClaran, Ella Rae Gibson, Alda Marie Davis, Jeanne Ann Davis, and the counselors.

The Second Guess

By TOWNSEND MILLER

Our good friend, Bob Mulla of the Texarkana Gazette, writes to set us straight on the enrollment of Texarkana High.

In comparing sizes of schools in District 9-A recently, we said Marshall had an enrollment of about 450 students from which to draw athletic material, while Texarkana had "twice as many."

Mundella informs us that the high school on the Texas side of the bi-state city has about 550 students.

The figures we had were compiled by a school official in another town, and evidently they included both of Texarkana's larger high schools—the one in Texas and the one in Arkansas.

Mundella also reminds us that there are two more smaller high schools in Texarkana. We are glad to make the correction. But Texarkana (Tex.) High is still quite a bit larger than Marshall High, and the odds are still high, as compared to most of the other schools in the state, against the Mavericks winning a district title in any one year.

Side Lines

Stephen F. Austin's great lineman, Billy Jack Robertson, made a terrific impression on Marshall fans when he played here against the East Texas Baptist Tigers in the first game of the year. Every kid and football fan in Marshall still "plays like" him. And the giant Robertson continues to deal opponents misery. Last week end, his two field goals and an extra point kick provided SFA with the seven-point margin over Louisiana College 13-6.

Late reports from Florida say that Marshall all-star, Gahlen Dinkie, was terrific when Louisiana State's freshmen swamped the Florida freshman last week end. Dinkie romped 70 yards for one touchdown in the style so well remembered by Marshall fans.

Frank Kane, his wife Thelma, and their two youngsters left Marshall Wednesday for their home in St. Louis where Hank will be employed this winter. The Marshall Browns outfielder who was voted most popular player last summer, has been living here since the baseball season ended.

Another Browns player, pitcher Bill Davis, and his bride-to-be have set their wedding date for Nov. 12. Fans will remember that Bill gave her a diamond engagement ring.

Two strokes ahead
Whitcher Holds Lead At Tournament Turn

KILGORE — Marshall Pro Jimmy Whitcher continued to hold the lead at the half-way mark of the East Texas Pro Golf Tournament here Wednesday as he put a 78 with his opening round of 72 for a 150 total.

Defending champion Horvay (Pee Wee) Parvino of Gladewater posted 39-36-75 as the day's best round to take over the runner up spot and trim Whitcher's lead to only two strokes. Parvino fired a 77 in the first round.

Whitcher held a four-stroke advantage at the start of the day's firing and appeared well on his way to an easy triumph when he banged in an eagle duce on the 338-yard second hole. He made the turn one over par but zoomed to a one on the back nine.

Home Widenor, Kilgore, pro, carded a 38-39-77 to go with his opening round 76 for 153 and third place.

Bill Brewer, Greggton pro, and the surprise golfer in the tournament, kept within range of the leaders with a 38-40-78. Brewer's 38 hole total is 154.

Jake Clark of Troup is fifth with 156, and Ralph Morgan, Tyler pro, who is dogged with a cold putter, is in sixth place with 157.

Plaque to Honor Football Player
MISSION — Enrique Carriase, Jr., high school halfback who died Oct. 12 of injuries received in practice, will be honored by a memorial plaque.

The plaque will have space for names of players who exemplify good sportsmanship to be inscribed on it. Mission School Supt. M. Auld proposed the memorial.

Amateurs Sought In 'Sponging' Of Five Race Horses
SALEM, N. H. — Amateurs with larceny in their hearts and a knowledge of the physical geography of Rockingham Park were sought today as those concerned with "sponging" five horses in the seventh race here Oct. 24.

Most of those interested in seizing the tamperers, who pushed small sponges into the thoroughbred's noses, are convinced there was no intention of betting coup as the wagering on the race was not abnormal.

It was pointed out, however, that the seventh race played a part in the makeup of the figures used in the number pool in this area.

The sponging, designed to cause a horse to become distressed—particularly in a hard stretch drive—was discovered by Lyle Phillips who found a small blood-covered sponge in the feed bin of his horse Seersucker which finished fourth in the race.

when she visited here in mid-season. . . .

Bill Taylor, one of Marshall's better bowlers, is getting back in the groove again this winter. He came through with games of 198, 209, and 219 for a 623 series the other night while bowling with the Hardy Construction Co. team in league play.

Two of the nation's top five junior college eleveners will meet head-on when Kilgore Junior College clashes with Lamar at Beaumont Saturday night. Both are undefeated and united in seven games this season.

Mundella, Texarkana's sports writer, is predicting a high-scoring tilt when the Mavericks and Tigers get together Friday night. He points out that each team has been scored on frequently this year, relying on a high-geared, offensive to win games. Sounds logical. . . .

We don't appreciate Texarkana High's miserly attitude in regard to the number of tickets sent to Marshall. Maybe officials have forgotten that the Mavericks are one of the biggest drawing cards in the state right now.

School officials here believe in being generous with tickets for games played here, and other schools have returned the favor by supplying Marshall fans with about 1,500 tickets to out of town games. Texarkana balked at anything over 750.

Duck Calling
The 1950 Sports Field "Hunting Annual" contains an excellent article on duck calling that should interest the many nimrods in this area. It may make you throw away your duck call—it will surely inspire you to work harder at mastering the art. There's also a good article on caring for deer meat in the field. . . .

Bill Rivers in his column in the Dallas News takes a swing at those who object to the use of football "specialists" in conjunction with the free substitution rule. He says, "If you were a manager for a big business concern and you had a man who was a great salesman, would you keep him in the office sealing envelopes? Of course not. Why, then, should a coach who has a great extra-point kicker keep him on the bench after a touchdown has been scored, simply because that player is not an all-around football phenomenon?"

HEAVY SLATE

Five Games Open Crucial Prep Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five games tonight, one of them putting an unbeaten record on the line, start off the most crucial week end of the season in Texas schoolboy football.

John Reagan of Houston, the last undefeated team in the City Conference, swings against Jett Davis in the top game of District 3.

Forest and Crozier Tech get together in the Dallas district but it's an unimportant game and it's the same for the clash of Fort Worth Tech and Poly at Fort Worth. However, in the San Antonio district, Thomas Jefferson, one of two unbeaten teams in the conference, rolls against Alamo Heights. Victory for Jefferson, which is expected, would put this team even with San Antonio Tech in wins.

At El Paso, El Paso High plays Mesa, Ariz., an inter-sectional game. The headline of the week is Friday night when Little Grand Prairie makes its greatest bid for glory. Undefeated and united, Grand Prairie battles Highland Park of Dallas, the perennial District 8 Class AA champion, in the scrap that should determine the district title.

They won't be able to handle the crowd that wants to see this one and there will even be some standing room sold. Grand Prairie has been in Class AA three years and it is the first time a team has come along in years that appears capable of challenging Big Highland Park.

Throughout the state are 46 games tonight, Friday and Saturday. All except four of them are conference affairs. At least a half-dozen district titles are in the balance.

OVERWHELMING CHOICE
Yanks Pilot Named 'Manager of Year'

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK — Casey Stengel, who hit the jackpot in his first year with the New York Yankees after nine unsuccessful seasons as National League pilot, is his major league's "manager of the year."

The grizzled veteran, who overcame a listful of obstacles to lead the Yankees to an American League pennant and a world championship last season, was the overwhelming choice of the baseball writing fraternity which voted in the Associated Press poll.

Stengel grabbed 101 of the 116 votes cast. Only four other pilots received recognition with Detroit's Red Rolfe and the Philadelphia Phillies' Ed Sawyer tied for a poor second at six votes apiece.

Joe McCarthy, Boston Red Sox skipper, who was nosed out for the pennant two straight years on the final day, received two votes. Jack Onslow, freshman pilot of the Chicago White Sox, got the remaining vote.

Stengel received the accolade for his tremendous job with a club that didn't figure to win in the first place, and was crippled by a record number of injuries and illnesses from the start of the season right down to the final day. In addition, he had to live down the reputation as a clown and court jester.

He came to the Yankees as a stranger after five years in the minors. Even before the club concluded its spring training program in Florida, he was accepted by his players as a sound tactician, a keen student of the game and a smart handler of men.

It was Stengel's proud boast that he didn't levy a single fine on any of his players. Nor was there a single squabble between player and manager all year.

"Never have I seen a club work together as this one did," he proudly said at the club's victory dinner after the final World Series game. "Maybe we weren't the greatest team in history, but the Yanks of 49 were the fightingest most spirited team I ever saw in my life."

It is not far-fetched to credit Casey with infusing some of the fight, hustle and spirit that enabled the Yankees to hurdle all barriers and defeat a favored Red Sox team in the closing days of one of the most storied seasons in American League history.

Going Along
NEW YORK — Only 13 rookies are performing in the National Hockey League this season, as compared with 20 last season. The Boston Bruins lead the circuit in newcomers with four: the New York Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks have three; Detroit Red Wings two and the Montreal Canadiens one. The Stanley Cup holders, the Toronto Maple Leafs, boast all veterans.

Together Again
SANTA CLARA, Calif. — Bill Renna, Tom Kelly and Lou Berberet, all collegiate baseball stars for Santa Clara in 1949, will enjoy a diamond reunion during spring training of the New York Yankees in St. Petersburg, Fla., next year. All three were linked by the Yanks who will take a look at them next spring.

Baptists in Underdog Role

By TOWNSEND MILLER

Four all-conference players will spike the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets' lineup when they roll into Marshall to play the East Texas Baptist Tigers Saturday night.

The Texas Conference Jackets are led by the brilliant Al Langford, 180-pound quarterback, who first made the honor list as a sophomore. He repeated last season, and is seeking his third all-conference rating this year.

The others are Frank Barnett, 178-pound end; Bill Scoggins, 185-pound center; and Bill Hamrick, 205-pound tackle. They each have one all-conference honor to their credit.

Coach Felton (Pooch) Wright started the season with 16 returning lettermen from last year's team which won five and lost five. The Yellow Jackets humiliated the Tigers 53-20 last season.

The Tigers will be underdogs again Saturday night, but that will be no new experience. They were doped to lose each of their last two games by a pair of touchdowns, but they took Southeastern Oklahoma into camp 26-7 then came back to dump Southwestern University 20-6 last week end.

Both those games were played away from home. This week the Tigers will have the home-field advantage.

The visiting Yellow Jackets use a varied offense that makes defense difficult. They alternate running off a light T, split T, winged T, single and double wingback, with a few innovations of their own thrown in.

They have scored freely this year, and as Coach John O. Stephens says, "It looks like the only way to beat them is just score more often than they do."

A typical Howard Payne game was the one played last week against the Trinity Tigers.

The Yellow Jackets scored two touchdowns against the current Gulf Coast Conference Leaders before bowing 20-12. Trinity couldn't hold the Jackets, but it did manage to make the most touchdowns.

The 195-pound offensive line of the Yellow Jackets tops that of the Tigers by 10 pounds to the man. The heavier defensive platoon has an even greater advantage.

The difference in the backfields is not so great. The Tigers' average of 177 pounds compares favorably with Howard Paynes 181-pound figure.

Langford is the leading figure on the team in every respect. He is rated an excellent signal-caller from his quarterback position, and is a powerful, tricky runner.

But it is in passing that he really stands out. He is generally rated as the best in the Texas Conference.

Jackie Bearrow, ram-riding 200-pound halfback, is the power plunger of the squad, and the Jackets have a pair of fine backstops in Paul Stewart, 167, and Gene Carter, 145-pounder. Both run from the halfback position.

Carter is used as a run-back specialist. He is holder of the conference record in the 230-yard dash, and once broken loose, is seldom stopped.

Curtis Davenport is another fine back, who is used at quarterback and halfback. He is one of the best pass receivers on the squad and a fine ball-carrier.

Playing on the opposite end from All-Conference Barnett is Donald Jay, 190-pounder. He and Barnett are two of the three smallest men on the regular forward wall, but both are fine pass receivers.

Charles Coburn, 220-pound left tackle, and Hamrick, 205-pound all-conference right tackle, are the heavyweights in the line. The Baptists are expected to be in good physical condition for their first home appearance in five weeks.

Halfback Arthur Tipton appears to be definitely out with an injured ankle, although X-rays show there is no break. He was hurt in last week's Southwestern game.

Tackle Gerald Powell will probably see only limited service, and Halfback Buddy Friemel may still be slightly handicapped in the passing department with his bad shoulder.

However, the Tigers are in the best condition since early season.

Williamson Likes Irish, Baylor, Illinois, Penn

By PAUL B. WILLIAMSON

The national football feature this week is a question of an old name and an old story. The old name is Notre Dame, playing Michigan State Saturday.

The old story is victory for Notre Dame, perhaps by two or more touchdowns.

The No. 2 game of the week, in Waco, Texas, will be Baylor's surprising Bears versus strong University of Texas. It looks like a win for Baylor.

In the Big 10 scramble, Illinois should beat Indiana, Minnesota should come back and take Iowa and Wisconsin looks like the winner in its game with Northwestern. As a surprise pick of the week, the System offers Pittsburg U. over Ohio State. That's what the very close figures say.

Pennsylvania ought to get by Virginia, although there may be an upset lurking here. Virginia's Cavaliers are one of the undefeated and untied teams of the nation.

Although Texas Western lost to Hardin-Simmons in a 14-35 thriller, the System picks the cowboy Miners to shade Texas Tech this week. Consistent Texas A&M ought to beat Abilene Christian, and North Texas State should win over Trinity U. (Texas). Any way these games go, they will be worth the price of admission.

NOD TO GREENIES
In the Southeast it looks like Tennessee over Georgia Tech. Tulane ought to stop Navy with emphasis on the "ought." Xavier U. (Cincinnati) has the finest record and highest rating in its history. Are they big time? Xavier plays Kentucky this Saturday, but the percentages show Kentucky ought to win.

Another interesting intersectional contest will be Houston U. vs. Bonaventure, at Olean, N.Y. The figures say Houston ought to be the winner.

And by the way, it will be interesting to see how close undefeated and untied Fordham can hold favored Army this Saturday.

GENERAL FARE
The general bill of fare on Friday will include: Villanova over Georgetown U. by about two touchdowns; Hardin-Simmons over Loyola in Los Angeles, and Miami, Fla., over Detroit U.

The toughest junior college game of the week will be Kilgore College, currently ranked no. 2, vs. Lamar of Beaumont Texas, ranked No. 6. Kilgore ought to win.

The various junior college bowls are beginning to get astir. These junior college bowl games are not merely to be glanced at in passing. The Junior College rose bowl game will have an attendance of about 50,000, for instance.

EXPLANATIONS FOR WEEK
The first district (No. 1) column is picked by the Williamson System as the winner. It is the home team unless its opponent is second (right) and third (left) to mean the loser is the home team. "N" means night. In three general games (1) "Name" game, (2) "Name" game, and (3) "Name" game.

Shorthorns And Baylor Cubs Meet
WACO — This Texas Shorthorns and the Baylor freshmen tangle here tonight. Both football teams have won one game and lost one game this year.

PUTTING THE FEET IN FOOTBALL—SMU End Charles Russell, on ground and apparently out of play, throws his feet high in air to bring down Texas' back, Bobby Dillon, with unusual tackle as Dillon ran back a punt in second quarter of SMU-Texas game in Dallas Saturday. Coming up from behind is Texas' center, Joe Arnold (55). (AP Wirephoto).

Tigers-Mavs Battle Tops District Card
Every team except Tyler has scored on Texarkana this year, but only Longview and Lamar of Houston have been able to score most often. Lamar beat the Tigers 8-0 in the season's opener with North out of the lineup.

The Tigers have the advantage of an extra week of work while the Mavs were tackling Henderson, and they are also playing at home. A win by Texarkana would throw the district race into a possible four-way snarl.

Longview and Tyler also appear evenly matched.

This should be a passing duel between Tyler's Ed Hennig and Longview's Johnny Linney.

The Lobos have only one loss in district play, that a 7-0 game with Henderson.

Longview is easily the most improved team in the district. Tyler, after a great start, has been on the downgrade.

Henderson's Lions figure to bounce back from their initial loss. They should have little trouble with Kilgore who have won only one game this year.

However, the Dogs tied Gladewater last week, and may offer some resistance.

Jerry Norton all-state back will be at full strength against the Mavericks.

The 178-pound triple-threat halfback is rated the finest performer in the loop this year.

Extremely fast, Norton is a great runner, excellent passer, and fine punter.

His bullet passes are seldom intercepted, and the only thing that has kept him from running up an amazing passing record is that his receivers at times have had trouble holding on to his sharp tosses.

HAS PLENTY HELP
Norton has plenty of help from a versatile backfield and a line that is rated equal to the great Marshall forward wall.

Wayne Wall, 164-pound fullback, is the best hand in the ground-gaining department. Wall is easily as fast as Norton, and packs amazing powers.

Bill Williams, 175-pound sophomore sensation, helps out on the passing chores, and is also a creditable runner.

One of the better Tigers is 185-pound Jerry Clem. He began the season in the backfield but was shifted to a guard position.

HAVE STRONG LINE
Topped by 220-pound tackle Bill Crain, the Tiger forward wall is the first the Mavs have faced this season that can come up to Marshall's 180-pound average per man. And the Tigers are as good as they are big.

WHO'LL PLAY?
Cotton Bowl Sold Out For Jan. 1 Game

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS — The Cotton Bowl already is sold out and no one has the least idea what teams will play in it. The host team is the Southwest Conference champion and right now three teams are in the running for that honor.

The visiting school can't be approached until the Cotton Bowl officials submit a preference list to the teams most likely to be conference champion.

Dan D. Rogers, selection chairman of the Cotton Bowl, said today he thought at least a scratch list might be submitted next week.

Baylor and Rice are tied for the lead, neither having been defeated. Southern Methodist has lost only one game. Arkansas, Texas A&M, Christian and Texas each has dropped two. Saturday Baylor plays Texas. Rice meets Arkansas and Southern Methodist engages Texas A&M, which has lost three.

Cotton Bowl officials said no out-of-state team had been contacted in any way and would not be until the Southwest Conference situation clears. But it is known that two teams are being eyed more speculatively than the rest. These are Oklahoma and Michigan State.

There have been reports that Oklahoma was already committed to the Sugar Bowl but Cotton Bowl officials scoffed at that. They think Oklahoma would look favorably on the Dallas gridiron clash scheduled for Jan. 2. What Michigan State does against Notre Dame Saturday will have considerable effect on whether that team is a top candidate for a bid.

Applications for tickets to the Cotton Bowl are being accepted until Friday night by mail with a limit of four to a person. There are 25,000 seats available to the public.

S'west Teams Lighten Work
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southwest Conference football teams started tapering off today for Saturday's games.

Texas Wednesday worked on a defense to stop Baylor's potent passing attack. Three Longhorn backs—Randall Clark, Byron Townsend and Billy Pyle—missed the practice because of injuries.

Southern Methodist University also stressed pass defense, while Texas Christian players started a daily tackling practice.

Baylor Trainer Delmar Brown said Center Gene Huebner may not be able to play against Texas. He has a back injury. Several other Bear players are ailing.

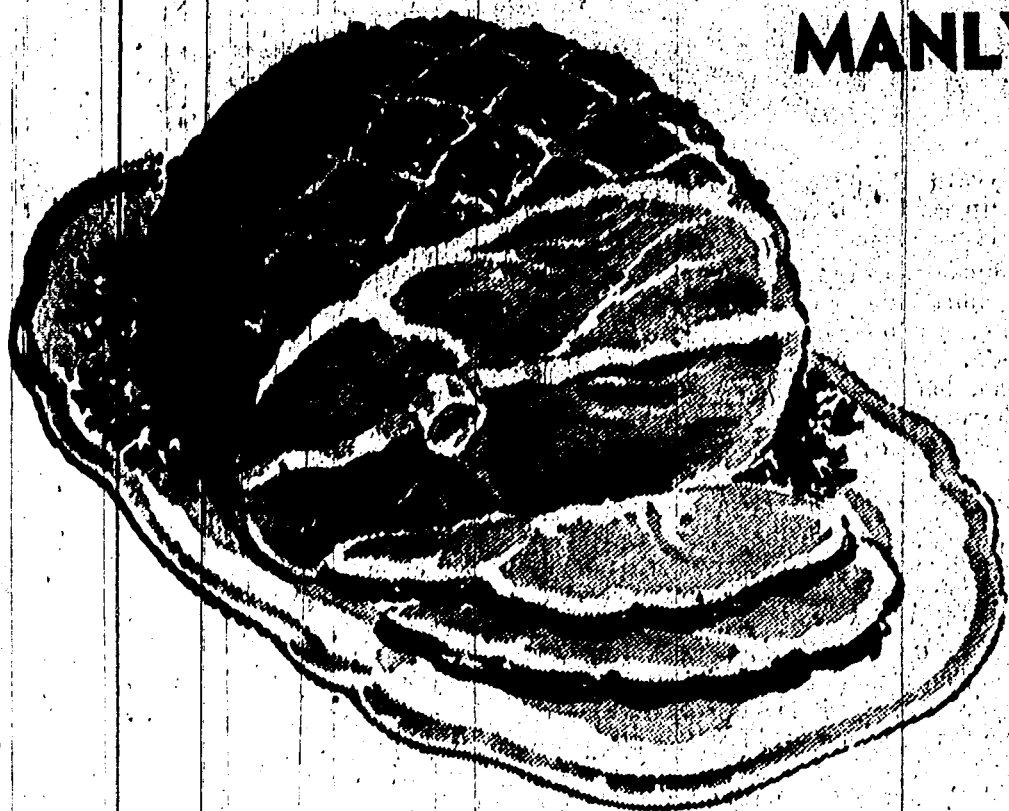

Bids Opened On Baylor Stadium
WACO — Swigert Construction Co. of Waco has offered to build Baylor's new $2,000,000 seat football stadium for $1,127,188.

This was the low figure when bids were opened Wednesday. All bids will be considered by the board of directors of Baylor Stadium Corp. at a meeting in Austin Saturday.

County 4-H Club Youth Wins Trip to Congress

William Huffman, former Hallsville High School 4-H Club member and now a freshman student at Texas A. and M., is one of 16 outstanding club members who have been selected for the coveted Santa Fe Railroad Educational Awards.

Winners were announced today at College Station.

Each of the 16 awards carries with it an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago Nov. 27 to Dec. 1.

Selections, according to Floyd Lynch, state 4-H leader of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, were based upon length of membership in 4-H, leadership and achievement records, production, participation in 4-H and community and county activities other than 4-H, and the general all-around record made by the individual.

The Harrison County winner is now attending A. and M. on a four-year scholarship which he won at the last Houston Fat Stock Show with a "scramble calf." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Huffman.

Texas A. and M. officials, Houston and Orange businessmen and top agricultural leaders from this section of the state came here for a testimonial dinner for the youth early last spring.

Travel plans for attending the 4-H Congress have not yet been complete, but are in process at the present time. Lynch said that competition for this year's trips was very close.

"Winners, their parents, local club leaders and county extension agents can all feel honored for having joined the charmed circle of Congress trip winners and especially the Santa Fe Railroad Educational Award winners group," he declared.

The Santa Fe Railroad has been providing these educational awards for Texas 4-H club members for more than 20 consecutive years.

Among scientists, the arctic fox is known as Alopex lagopus.

"Magic" Cooking, Baking, Frying Results Are Easy with New, Homogenized Swift's Jewel Shortening!

MAN AND WIFE AGREE: "JEWEL CAKES TASTE PERFECT"

JEWEL'S "SMOKE-POINT" 40° HIGHER!

LIGHT, TENDER, FLUFFY... AND THEY COST LESS TO MAKE!

Simple test proves it won't smoke up or smell like costliest shortenings!

Dramatic proof that Jewel is smokeless is offered by a recent test comparing Jewel with three costliest shortenings. In every instance, Jewel demonstrated a marked superiority.

The test consists merely of placing equal amounts of Jewel and any costliest shortening in two separate pans of the same size. To verify temperatures reached, a cooking thermometer (preferably two) is used.

As identical heat is applied the expensive brand will begin to smoke and give off odors. Jewel, however, can be left until its temperature is 40° higher than its competitor's.

Home economists agree that the perfect deep-fat frying temperature is 365° to 375°. Expensive shortenings will begin to smoke at 360°. Jewel, however, could be heated to 400°.

Want to keep hubby happy—and cut down on food costs, too? Then here's good news!

With the new, homogenized Jewel Shortening you can cook to his heart's desire—and save money while you do. For new Jewel—although it costs much less than costliest brands of shortenings—challenges them all when it comes to results.

In Memphis, for example, Mrs. J. A. Perry reported making a Jam Cake that would "just melt in your mouth!" While in New Orleans, another homemaker, Mrs. Alice H. Langston stated that her husband "just loves his biscuits made with Jewel!" Mrs. Langston further commented: "With the amount of shortening we use, we figure our savings on Jewel at about $8.00 a year. That'd buy plenty of eggs!"

As Swift's famous test kitchens have discovered however, Jewel's magic is not restricted to cakes and biscuits. Piecrusts, cookies, fried foods of all kinds, likewise benefit when new Jewel Shortening is used.

No Other Shortening Is More Digestible Or More Nutritious!

Don't be fooled—say scientists. Just because a shortening costs more doesn't make it any more nutritious or digestible.

Actually, any fats—including the fine vegetable and meat-fats in Jewel—are among the most completely digested foods. Furthermore, all fats are important in good nutrition. For they yield 2½ times as many energy units per pound as either carbohydrates or proteins.

In other words, money can't buy a more nutritious or digestible shortening than new Jewel. Not even if you pay $10 a pound!

CHALLENGES THE COSTLIEST... COSTS MUCH LESS! SAVES 5¢ TO 7¢ A POUND

There's a new "headliner" in the shortening field! Swift's new, homogenized Jewel Shortening. Only recently introduced, this new product challenges costliest brands. Yet it costs 5¢ to 7¢ less per pound.

The new Jewel employs a controlled homogenization process in the blending of its fine vegetable oils and meat-food fats.

As a result, the finished product is of highest quality with a remarkable smooth and even texture. No other shortening is more nutritious or more digestible.

Many of the compliments now being lavished on Jewel by enthusiastic homemakers concern its use in preparing fried foods of all kinds. For this new shortening remains smoke-free and free from objectionable odors at extreme cooking temperatures. Actually, its "smoke-point" is 40° higher than costliest shortenings.

The thriftiness of the new product, has also come in for its share of applause. Many homemakers, in fact, state that they have been able to purchase 4 pounds of the new homogenized Jewel for the same price they usually pay for 3 pounds of costliest shortenings.

Like Fried Chicken? Here's How to Add a Touch of "Magic"!

Developed by Swift's famous Martha Logan, here's a special fried chicken recipe featuring new Jewel Shortening. Just follow the 6 magic steps indicated for your convenience.

1. Clean, wash and drain a 2½ to 3 lb. (dressed) chicken.
2. Cut into serving pieces.
3. Measure ½ cup flour and 2 teps. salt into a paper bag.
4. Drop in each piece of chicken separately and shake until coated.
5. Heat enough Jewel Shortening to make ¼ inch depth in a large skillet.
6. Fry chicken over medium heat, turning until golden brown. Reduce heat, cover and cook about ½ hour, until tender. Uncover and cook ten minutes.

Challenges the costliest... costs much less!

Oysters May Be Fixed For Individual Taste

Oysters on the halfshell, oysters cocktail, oysters Rockefeller, oyster stew, oyster bisque, myriads of recipes and myriads of oysters are available for your delectation.

The oyster on the Texas Coast waters is the Eastern type, found from Massachusetts to Texas and has a shell about 2 to 2½ inches long. The Pacific oyster is a giant one developed from seed imported from Japan and the third type is the Olympic oyster, the smallest of all, found mainly in a small section of Puget Sound in Washington.

Oysters are found in the meat and fish markets in two sizes, select or larger for frying and standard or smaller for cocktails, steams and scalloped dishes.

An average serving of six oysters supplies more than a day's requirement of iron and copper—one-half the iodine, and one-tenth the necessary protein, calcium, magnesium, phosphorus, Vitamin A, thiamin, riboflavin and niacin.

SINCE DAYS OF CAESAR These delicacies have been served since the days of Caesar and Nero and even the Greeks had a word for them.

Since oysters should not be reserved just for company, several recipes for family dishes as well as for parties follow.

OYSTER STEW

1 pint oysters
4 tablespoons butter
1 quart milk
1½ teaspoons salt
1½ teaspoon pepper

Melt butter, add drained oysters, and cook 3 minutes or until edges curl. Add milk, salt, and pepper, and bring almost to boiling point. Serve at once. Garnish with paprika. Serves 6.

OYSTERS EN BROchette

1 pint (about 3 dozen) Bluepoint oysters drained
1-3 cup chili sauce
1½ teaspoons horse-radish
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 drop tabasco

½ teaspoon salt
½ pound (15) fresh mushrooms, halved, or 30 canned button mushrooms.

Drain oysters. Combine chili sauce, horse-radish, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce, tabasco, and salt. Dip oysters in chili sauce mixture. Place oysters and mushrooms alternately on skewers. Season with additional salt and pepper and cover with remaining sauce. Broil about 3 minutes; then turn and broil 3 minutes longer, or until mushrooms are tender. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Note: If desired, cut 7 slices bacon in quarters and alternate with oysters and mushrooms on skewers.

OYSTERS SOUFFLE

1 pint oysters
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Dash nutmeg

3 eggs, separated

Drain and chop oysters, reserving liquid. Melt butter, blend in flour, add oyster liquid and milk and bring to boiling point, stirring constantly. Cook 3 minutes. Add oysters, seasonings and beaten egg yolks. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into oyster mixture. Pour into buttered casserole and bake in moderate oven, about 30 minutes or until brown. Serves 6.

SCALLOPED OYSTERS

1 qt. oysters
1-3 cup cream
1½ cups cracker crumbs
¼ cup butter, melted
¼ cup Green pepper, chopped
¼ cup celery, chopped
Salt
Paprika

Drain oysters. Reserve liquor and combine with cream. Mix cracker crumbs with melted butter. Grease a baking dish and cover bottom with a layer of buttered crumbs. Arrange layer of one half of the oysters, one half of green pepper, and celery and one half of the liquor and cream mixture, sprinkling salt and paprika over all. The two layers are separated with a layer of crumbs. Finish the top with crumb mixture and dot with butter. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

The dish, Oysters Rockefeller, probably has the most fascinating legend behind it of the oyster dishes. It all began in New Orleans when one of the Rockefeller's was dining at Antoine's. There the great chef, Jules Alcatore, presented Rockefeller with a superb oyster dish and was immediately asked its name. Alcatore with true French courtesy quickly replied, "Why, the dish was created especially for you. Of course, it is Oysters Rockefeller."

Widely popular as this dish has now become, the original recipe has never been given out by Antoine's, where Oysters Rockefeller are served with great ceremony. Each order is brought in with a platter and a card attached, giving the number of servings.

RECIPE NEVER TOLD

Though the secret has never been told, many chefs have guessed the ingredients and some excellent recipes for Oysters Rockefeller can be found. Here is one version that is not too complicated for the average homemaker, calling for seasonings which one usually has on hand.

Served in oyster half shells broiled on a rock salt base, which helps to heat the oysters, this specialty will make you famous as a fancy cook. Or the oysters may be baked with same sauce without the shells and served on a platter with parsley and lemon wedges. Either way, you will delight your friends with a real epicurean dish.

OYSTERS ROCKEFELLER

1½ cups oysters
2 tablespoons spinach
¼ onion
1-3 bay leaf
1 sprig parsley
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon celery salt
Dash of cayenne

Drain oysters and dry between towels; arrange in oyster half shells. If shells are large, place 2 or 3 oysters in each half shell.

Put spinach, onion, bay leaf, and parsley through food chopper, using finest knife. Add seasonings and saute in butter 5 minutes. Spread mixture over oysters in half shells. Place filled shells on bed of preheated rock salt in broiler pan and broil under moderate heat (350 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes. Serve with lemon wedges. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

Note: If oyster shells are not available, oysters may be baked in greased shallow baking pan in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 minutes.

High Court Gets Labor Wrangle

AUSTIN (U)—Labor and management attorneys Wednesday argued in State Supreme Court whether or not a labor dispute was involved in an Amarillo picketing case. The Wells of Dallas strongly urged that a labor dispute did exist between H. I. Stephenson, contractor, and the Amarillo Construction and General Labor Union, Local No. 688, when Stephenson employed non-union workers at alleged substandard conditions. Byron Singleton of Amarillo denied a labor dispute could exist since the contractor had no differences with employees re-erecting two airplane hangars moved from Dalhart to the Tri-State Fair Grounds at Amarillo. Singleton said the labor union had introduced sham issues of wages and lack of safety.

Wholesale Price Of Coffee Still Advances

The coffee situation, not only in Marshall, but over the entire country, remained in an advancing position as far as price is concerned. Stocks in Marshall which were depleted by the customer demands, have been replenished and nearly every merchant is in a position to supply needs.

An explanation of the grades of coffee and the increase in cost at the wharf in New Orleans, where most of the coffee sold locally is purchased, reveals the reason for the increase to the consumer. The top quality coffee, grown in Central America is known as Medellin Excelso, and is used in the better blends. This coffee has increased in price (green) 13 and 1/2 cents per pound since Oct. 18.

The next grade — probably the most — is Santos, grown largely in Brazil. The cost of this grade has advanced since Oct. 18, 11 and 1/2 cents per pound. The lowest grade coffee, which is sold in bulk, has advanced eight cents per pound in the same period.

Most merchants in Marshall have a good supply today, advancing price only as necessitated by new purchases at the higher prices. Some few stores are limiting customer purchases, so that all customers may be able to purchase coffee as needed. One merchant said he felt that the customers were unduly alarmed as of both price and shortage. However, all the merchants are having to pay higher prices for each new shipment.

So far, none of Marshall's eating places has advanced the price per cup on coffee.

Two Hormones Shrink Cancer

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, AP Science Editor

NEW YORK (U) — A new field of medicine was opened here with a report to the American Cancer Society that two new hormones shrink certain cancers.

The hormones are acth and cortisone. This pair earlier this year caused dramatic relief of pain in arthritis, gout and rheumatic fever.

Their effect on cancer were much the same. The patients felt and ate better, and cancers shrank, only to enlarge after the medicine was stopped. To date, two cancers have remained smaller for 10 weeks, with no signs of swelling again.

The doctors said they gave these hormones for cancer not because they expected cures, but because here is a new way of hobbling the disease and perhaps finding out what really will be a cancer treatment.

Considering the sensational effects of the hormones on quite unrelated diseases, particularly arthritis, gout and rheumatic fever, doctors said this might be the greatest discovery since Pasteur found germs.

Discontinuance Of Two Trains Authorized

AUSTIN (U) — Elimination of two Texas & New Orleans passenger trains between Houston and Victoria has been authorized by the Railroad Commission.

Allowed to stop their runs were trains Nos. 301 and 302. One leaves Houston at 8:10 a. m., arrives Victoria at 11:50 a. m. The other departs Victoria at 12:25 p. m., arrives Houston at 4:20 p. m.

Pay Raise Ruling

AUSTIN (U) — Cities which pay their policemen and firemen above the minimums set by state law must still grant the $10 per month salary increases called for by the law after each five-year period of service through 15 years. That was the ruling Wednesday by the Third Court of Civil Appeals in a suit brought by Austin firemen and policemen.

Orders for Officers

OTTAWA (U) — Canada's naval officers have been told to lose their English accents and treat their enlisted men better. A three-man commission investigating conditions aboard Canadian warships reported the Canadian officers need instruction "far more frequently and intensively" in how to be leaders.

Took Work Home

SIDNEY, Neb. — Police arrested Merle E. Faulkner, 22, after they noticed him walking down the street with an uprooted parking meter over his shoulder. He explained later that he could not force the meter open to get the money so he took the whole thing home to work on it.

FRUIT MERINGUE . . . For Dessert Lovers

SOMETHING DIFFERENT

Heavenly Desserts For Earthly Meals

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
If your family and friends dote on dessert here's a heavenly new one for them — a meringue that's just a little different. The difference lies in the tiny flakes of rolled oats that are added to make a chewy, crisp texture. The meringue can be filled with whipped cream and frozen raspberries or with a whipped gelatin mixture if you like, and fresh or canned fruit added. Here's the recipe:

Ingredients: For Base — 4 egg whites, 1/2 teaspoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup quick rolled oats (uncooked). For Filling — 1 pint heavy cream (whipped and sweetened), 2 cups sweetened fresh or frozen raspberries, strawberries or peaches.

Method: Add vinegar, vanilla, and salt to egg whites and beat to a stiff foam. Add sugar gradually, about a tablespoon at a time, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until mixture stands in shiny peaks. Lightly fold in rolled oats. Place in a mound on greased unglazed paper on a baking sheet. Using a spatula, hollow out the center and build up the sides to resemble a pie shell. Bake in a very slow (275 F.) oven for a few minutes then remove the paper. Cool thoroughly and fill with sweetened whipped cream into which fresh or frozen raspberries, strawberries or peaches have been added.

And more good news for dessert-lovers! A jewel of a cookbook called Favorite Desserts has recently come out, (published by the Chicago Home Economics in Business Group, Box 453, Chicago 90, Illinois, price $1.50 plus 15 cents for handling when ordered by mail.) It contains more than 300 recipes, including fudgy cakes, frostings, cookies, frozen desserts, fruit desserts, pies, puddings, dessert sauces, and refrigerator desserts. Most important of all, because this cookbook was compiled by many of the country's leading home economists, you can be sure its recipes are absolutely reliable. Each contributor had to submit her favorite dessert, and there really are some delectable treasures here. Many of them are perfect for family dinners, others are worthy of holiday entertainment, and still others are just the thing for that shower-luncheon or that bridge club meeting.

Rains Delay Texas Harvest

AUSTIN, Tex. — Wet fields over most of Texas during the past week interrupted harvest of mature crops, and kept some other field work near a standstill.

The United States Department of Agriculture reported that little or no progress was made in rice fields along the coast.

Wheat in northern high plains continued to make good progress except in western counties where surface moisture was inadequate for proper development.

In the southern high plains and lower rolling plains, wheat made good growth with improved moisture supplies.

Cotton harvest made fair to good progress in the high plains in spite of some delay from rains and heavy dews, USDA said. In other areas, wet fields kept crews idle most of the week.

Texas Hospital Found Overcrowded, Lacks Doctors, Buildings Inadequate

By DAVE CHEAVENS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — A patient on Ward A at the San Antonio State Hospital was overheard to remark: "I ain't never been asked for nothing since I've been here and that's all I've gotten plenty of."

While the wisecrack is subject to some discount, a five-hour tour of the institution left me with the impression there was a lot of truth in it.

QUALITY VS. QUANTITY
Just like the food that is dished out in heaps, it appeared that the service the state is giving its mentally ill here was not so much a question of quantity, but quality.

The shortages in quantity are self-evident. Patients are crowded into the hall, their beds take up space needed for recreation rooms, they sleep on porches open to all kinds of weather, because there ain't enough buildings.

The top floor of the occupational therapy building has been condemned, other dormitories at the best are only partially fireproof and fire escapes have been officially labeled as inadequate.

BEDS CROWDED
Beds in some of the wards are spaced so close they almost touch. There were 28 in one where the nurse in charge said there should be no more than 12; in one ward with 40 patients there were just two tubs and two showers.

The shortages in quality are not so apparent, but hospital officials listed these as the mental institution's greatest needs:

More personnel, better trained personnel, more and better buildings, better recreational facilities, a stepped-up program of occupational therapy — giving the patients something to do.

The statistics furnished by Dr. Pearl V. Mathias to a group of newsmen inspecting the state hospitals also had direct bearing on the quality of treatment.

OVERCROWDING

For example: There are 813 patients in the main building male ward, occupying space and using equipment adequate for only 400; there are 1,073 female patients in this particular building where there should be only 600. The standards quoted are those of the United States Public Health Service.

There are four especially trained psychiatrists for nearly 3,000 patients subject to treatment; all told there are 11 doctors in the institution and two of them are administrative. The United States Public Health Service is sending a team of experts to study Texas' state hospitals, and they are expected to say how far short of standard this patient load is.

Hospital officials estimated it would take four to five million dollars right now to bring the institution up to decent levels and 22 million to do a real job.

That gives you some idea of the size of the job faced by the Legislature next January — this is just one of the institutions it will undertake to care for.

Legionnaires To Meet at Paris

Joe Spurlock, present State Commander of the American Legion and Bill McCraw, immediate past commander, will both be on the program of the annual fall convention of the First District of the American Legion at Paris Saturday and Sunday.

Clarence Braden, Jefferson, first district commander, will preside at the convention sessions. The convention will open with a rehabilitation school conducted by A. R. Tyner, department service officer of Dallas.

Saturday evening the Paris Post, commanded by E. B. Simmons, will be host to visiting Legionnaires and their ladies at a dance. This, as well as all sessions of the convention, will be held at the American Legion post home.

Sunday morning a joint meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary will be held. Commander Spurlock will be the speaker. This will be followed by religious services. At noon at the Gibraltar Hotel, a luncheon will be enjoyed with Past State Commander McCraw the speaker.

At 2 o'clock separate business meetings of the American Legion and Auxiliary will be held.

Among Legion visitors will be Vincent Ferrill of Linden, first division commander.

CREAMO ONLY MARGARINE WITH CREAM

Choice of yellow quarters or uncolored pounds

Pure sweet cream is responsible for Creamo Margarine's superiority. Its smooth, cream-rich flavor. Because no other margarine gives you cream, no other margarine equals Creamo's naturally superior flavor. In addition to being a finer tasting spread for bread, Creamo's extra flavor makes it wonderful for flavoring other foods. Try it on hot vegetable dishes, and for baking and frying. You'll be delightfully surprised at the delicious difference. Ordinary dishes become party dishes, with just a little cream-enriched Creamo added. You'll find that Creamo's exclusive cream content works flavor miracles. Try a pound of Creamo today. Taste it yourself. You'll see immediately why new thousands every day are switching to Creamo. You'll learn why the only margarine made with cream is the only margarine to buy... Creamo Margarine.

Lobbies Continue Activities, To Buttonhole Congressmen at Home

A number of lobbies made it clear in their reactions to Congressional adjournment that they intend to buttonhole Congressmen back home in anticipation of the Jan. 3 resumption of sessions. National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announced a grassroots campaign from Nov. 15 through Jan. 17 for passage of civil rights measures—FEPC particularly—which Administration leaders have indicated will be high on the agenda. Local NAACP branches are scheduled to send delegations to Congressmen and also seek the support of labor, church, fraternal and other groups. That they mean business was evident from the strong statement of Roy Wilkins, acting NAACP secretary:

A THREAT!

"Unless some Congressmen and Senators work and vote for this legislation in January," he said, "they may never get a chance to work on any legislation in the 82nd Congress. They can call this a threat or anything else they choose. Negroes have been patient, but they are through with empty promises, broken pledges and sick tricks. We want FEPC or else we will cut short some political careers."

Labor's League for Political Education (LPE) spoke in much more moderate terms in urging trade unionists to see their Congressmen while they are home. Union members were instructed to pat the legislators on the back for what was accomplished in the first session and then go on to point out the need for Taft-Hartley repeal, a better minimum wage bill, and other unfinished business in the Fair Deal platform.

Tennessee Congressmen went home to find the Committees for Constitutional Government, Inc., pushing its "Fighters for Freedom" recruiting campaign in Knoxville and other cities of the TVA state.

WORLD FEDERATION

Another matter that Congressmen were expected to hear a lot about at home was world federation. Groups such as United World Federalists, Atlantic Union Committee, and the Citizens Committee for UN Reform have been pushing organization on the local level.

United World Federalists report branches in 27 states with 40,000 paying members. UWF reported to Congress under the lobby law that it spent $169,401 during the first half of 1949. It ranked fourth on the list of big spending groups behind AMA, Committee for Constitutional Government, Inc., and the National Association of Electric Companies.

UWF wants a federation open to all nations under a revised UN setup. Suggested revision included backed the "ABC" plan for UN revision. This calls for (A) elimination of the Security Council veto in questions of aggression; (B) limitation of armaments through adoption of the U. S. atomic control plan and a quota method for limiting other armaments; and (C) an international police force recruited from small nation volunteers and backed by the big powers.

Opposition to all forms of federation is growing. Among groups which have gone on record against any measure which might reduce U. S. sovereignty are Veterans of Foreign Wars, Women's Patriotic Conference, American Coalition of Patriotic Societies (including DAR), Patriotic Executive Committee, National Economic Council, American Defense League, and Junior Order United American Mechanics.

OTHER LOBBY ACTION

Labor groups spent $4,900 in their unsuccessful fight to seat Mrs. Ethel Coffey (D) in her late son's seat in Congress from Pennsylvania's 28th District. . . . Floyd J. Mattice, Justice Department lawyer, was named general counsel of the new House Lobby Investigation Committee, but he told CQ Log details of employment haven't yet been worked out. . . . Attorney General J. Howard McGrath said the Justice Department lobby section might before long attract more public interest than the antitrust section. He said people would be "aghast" at some of its findings.

Sherman Record on Service Merger Brought Admiral First Attention

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was Vice Adm. Forrest P. Sherman's record in the long controversy over military unification which first fastened attention on him for possible appointment as chief of naval operations.

Back in 1936 he and the then Maj. Gen. Lauris Norstad of the Air Force found common ground on which to work out a compromise on unification. Both were air officers.

Sherman was the negotiator for the Navy when the Army and the then Army Air Forces sought to produce a compromise bill that would meet some of the objections to unification raised by the Navy Department.

The proposals produced by the small group of high Navy and Air Force officials, of which Sherman and Norstad were members, received the approval of President Truman and the compromise became the unification law with passage by Congress.

The admiral is thoroughly familiar with carrier operation, which now has become the basic plan around which all naval striking forces are built. He knows the administrative problems in Washington—where he has served a number of times—and the harsh realities of combat. Of that, he saw much in the Pacific campaign of World War II. Among this war's commands was the original carrier Wasp, sunk in the Solomon Islands Battle of September, 1942.

PACIFIC EXPERIENCE

It appears to have been Sherman's experiences in the air-land-sea Pacific war that convinced him of the need for unified command at Washington. He has said that every successful offensive in the Pacific was made possible by combined planning among the sea, air and land commanders of that theater.

Sherman, 55 years old last Sunday, is a native of Merriam, N. H., and a Naval Academy graduate—second in his class of 1917. He went overseas almost immediately after his graduation, assigned to American naval forces in the Mediterranean.

From 1917 to 1922 he was a junior officer aboard a number of destroyers, cruisers and battleships. But in that year he decided he wanted to cast his fortune with naval aviation. Then a tiny fraction of seapower. He was remaining in that service since.

MEDITERRANEAN FLEET

Sherman no sooner finished his arbitration role in the 1946-47 unification dispute than he found he was headed for another tough job—command of the United States Task Fleet in the Mediterranean.

There the fleet, built around aircraft carriers, represents the "implementation" to American foreign policy, of which diplomats speak. Its commander has to be part diplomat, part Navy officer to the world.

Sherman is about six feet tall, gray-haired, with a round but rugged face. No middle-age bulges have touched his figure; exercise takes care of that.

He has a reputation of getting along with people both outside and inside the Navy—a quality which presumably contributed to the interest of the Pentagon high command in the admiral.

Foreign Oil Is Threat to Industry, Declares Gossett

ABILENE (AP)—Rep. Ed Gossett says a steadily rising flood of foreign oil seriously threatens America's oil industry.

The Wichita Falls congressman spoke to directors of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association at a meeting here.

Louisiana Studies U. S. 80 Plans

RUSTON, La. — Proposals to study alternate two-lane and four-lane plans for reconstructing the 200 miles of U. S. highway 80 in Louisiana were agreed to at a meeting of U. S. 80 association communities.

Unofficial estimates for the 200-mile four-lane project approximate $30,000,000.

The Louisiana highway department was asked to undertake preliminary plans on a long-range basis for further study. Delegates from the U. S. 80 communities discussed the matter initially with Gov. Earl K. Long.

CITY MANAGER SPEAKS

Jones Asks Coordinated Effort And Understanding Cooperation

Oscar B. Jones, Sr., Marshall's fourth city manager, Wednesday night asked for coordinated effort and understanding cooperation in efforts to achieve maximum efficiency and economy in city operations.

The former chamber of commerce manager who became city manager last Tuesday gave expression to his plea in an address broadcast on radio station KMHY at 7:35 o'clock last night.

Specifically, he pledged himself to:

1. Completion of the water and sewage expansion program already underway.

2. Further material reduction in water rates "at the very earliest possible date."

3. Full cooperation with the City Commission in the inauguration of a street paving and improvement program.

4. Acquisition of suitable property and erection of suitable structures for centralization of materials, equipment and service-maintenance facilities for all city departments, and centralized purchasing for all departments.

EXPRESSES GRATITUDE

In expressing his appreciation for the confidence expressed in offering him the position of City Manager, Mr. Jones said, "I assume the duties of your City Manager without fear... and I desire to be a sincere definite and specific benefit to every man, woman and child in the city, county and trade territory."

Recognizing the City Commission's responsibility for city policies, Mr. Jones declared, "I assure you that at all times they will be the governing body and will have my full cooperation. I shall endeavor to aid them in every way possible, in every matter pertaining to the city and the taxpayers of Marshall."

"I know that this is the wish of every member of your honorable City Commission, and I believe every employee of the city, to see close coordination of each department with well-scheduled plans, programs, policies and budgets in each of the departments—all working together toward a goal of maximum efficiency at minimum expense, with fair and equal justice for all. It shall be my purpose, and my every effort will be directed toward this goal. Your full cooperation is most sincerely sought."

ASKS INFORMED PUBLIC

He pledged himself to the task of attempting to keep the public informed. "There is only one security a man can have," he declared, "and that's his sense of responsibility as a citizen. It is time to straighten out our thinking. Our town is not a finished product; our problems are numerous. Together, and with the best interest of all the people at heart in every act and spoken word where selfishness is set aside, much can be added in expediting that which we all seek—which is a sound, efficient city government."

Praise for conscientious and efficient work, he asked, should be as plentiful as criticism of the unworthy. Marshall, he said, "if its people so desire, can 'shine in the center of cities,'" and be "exactly the model city" to the extent that its people take pride in it. He asked recognition of the community's "fine churches, homes, schools, business institutions far above the average... Let us be loyal to the finer things of our town; rededicate ourselves together and work together to make them even better."

He said he expected to be more specific in future statements after gaining more accurate knowledge of the functions of the several departments, and their particular problems.

Health Chief Says Colds Season Is Just Arriving

With cold weather just around the corner, the common cold will become the common enemy of a lot of people, Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, reminds.

BED REST BEST

Colds, grippe, influenza, or whatever you may call it, are believed to be spread from person to person through discharges from the nose and throat. The highly-rated and sometimes highly over-rated anti-influenza remedies are now being used in research against the cold. The results so far are vague, with most of the work still in the experimental stage. Some success in stopping a cold at the onset has been reported, though.

But the cold, which so far has yielded to no drugs, is still most effectively treated by bed rest, it was suggested.

"Influenza is highly infectious," Dr. Cox said. "Practically everybody is susceptible to it. No matter how many times you have had the disease you may contract it again."

AVOID COUGHERS

Therefore, keep away from people who are coughing, sneezing, or who are actively ill with colds, influenza, or pneumonia. Keep away from crowded places. Have your own towel; always wash your hands before eating; and sneeze or cough into your handkerchief. "Keep fit by drinking plenty of water, eating simple nourishing food, and taking some exercise each day out of doors. Dress according to the weather; get plenty of sleep in a well-ventilated room; and keep the bowels regulated," Dr. Cox advised.

Disastrous results may ensue from this disease if influenza cases are allowed to get about too soon. Persons convalescing from flu disease are particularly susceptible to other infections; so, if you are just getting over some illness, return to your normal routine of life gradually.

Steel Pinch Sets Back New Model Car Program

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry's new model program has been set back considerably by the steel shortage.

Probably all the projected new models will be announced and described in detail as originally scheduled. But there will be a longer wait between formal announcement and availability of the new cars.

The reason is that until steel starts coming in again, the car makers will not be able to get the production volume needed to stock their dealers with the new units.

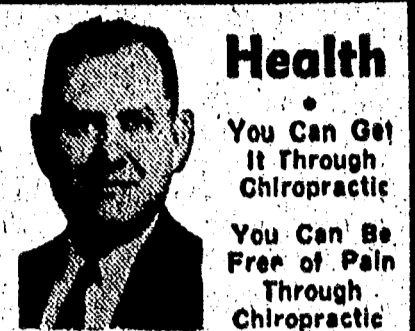

Hand-tooled models of the new cars to be introduced by General Motors, Chrysler and Ford already have been completed. Between now and the year's end most of them will be shown to industry writers and to dealers.

But until a large volume of steel again is available to the auto factories they cannot turn out a sufficient number of the new models to supply all retail outlets.

New model planning was completed long before the steel mills were closed. So enough material was set aside to complete a number of handbuilt display cars.

Studebaker, Nash and Packard have had their 1939 models out for some time. But General Motors, Chrysler and Ford generally had planned to start their down the assembly lines commencing early this month. They hoped to regain volume output before the year end.

"These plans have had to be changed quite generally. So, too, have whatever plans Hudson and Nash may have had to put a new lighter and slightly shorter vehicles into early production."
